Foreword

Although throughout the fleeting centuries, the styles, customs, and habits of this unexcelled race have undergone sweeping innovations, there has come down to us, in spite of wars and prevailing custom, a love of chivalry and honor. Having duly considered these two essential features of a nation, it is with unbounded pride and joy that we do herewith submit for your pleasure and approval, this manuscript based on the loyalty, chivalry, and honor of the Kingdom of Arthur.

Our Chief Counselor's Message

THE KNIGHTS of old stood for chivalry and honor, emphasizing the protection of the weak, gallantry toward women, and honesty in all things. Young women and men of the present day should aspire, as did the knights of old, to attain these noble ideals. The most gallant Knight of all exemplified the beauty of true living. May you as Pages, Squires, and Knights, with the aid of counselors, always strive to attain perfection and thereby learn to live and appreciate life in its fullest relationships. Lest we forget, a true knight possesses the spirit of simplicity and humility. May you, not only then, enjoy the richest blessings of this life, but become qualified through true living for the greater blessings of eternal knighthood.

To the City Board of Education

THE SUBJECTS of King Arthur's Court take this opportunity to express their most sincere thanks to you, the Counselors of His Majesty, for your consistent guidance and untiring efforts in maintaining the same standards of efficiency that our predecessors established. Equipped with the armor that you have supplied, your loyal knights are able to take the field against the foes of "Ignorance."

In return, the members of your chivalric order pledge their sacred honor to "transmit this city not only, not less, but greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us".

FACULTY

IN THE DAYS OF KNIGHT-
HOOD THE CLERGY, EN-DOWED WITH GREAT
WISDOM, ENDEAVORED TO AID OTHERS.

Our Faculty

King Arthur, hail! and all you noble lords,
All hail! accept these few but heart-felt words,
This tiny mark of our great love for those
Who shunned the path of ease and chose
To strive with us, to lead us in the Right,
To watch us, guard us, teach us how to fight
That we might overcome the Evil horde
When we have left for battlefields abroad.
To you we owe all knowledge of our art;
To you alone we owe our life's great start.
And we shall not forget you or your works,
For when the day is long and labour irks
We'll think of you and life shall spring anew,
And credit shall be yours for what we do.
But we must go, for wrapped in misty pall,
Concealed from our sight, great life doth call,
The world needs us, each one to play his part
And once again "Farewell" ere we depart.

Ye Comrade-Knights of the Table Round and all your worthy company

Legend hath it that Excalibur, the noble blade with which the King his mission wrought, was graven on one side, in the oldest tongue of all this world, "Take me." And on the other side was writ, in the current speech, "Cast me away!" And Merlin interpreted the inscription, "Take thou and strike! the time to cast away is yet far off."

So do ye all. No tribute pay to institutions grown too weak and old to drive the heathen from the wall. The old order changeth yielding place to new, and God fulfils Himself in many ways lest one good custom should corrupt the world. Yet confuse not change with good, for everlasting good grows never weak and old and merits noblest blade of any knight.

Grow on; fight on; fly on, discased, to sweep in ever-higher eagle-circles up to the great Sun of Glory, and thence swoop down upon all things base, and dash them dead . . . to cleanse the world.

May every morning bring a noble chance, and every chance bring out a noble knight. And that which ye shall do, may He within Himself make pure, till so the whole round earth be every way bound by bold chains about the feet of God . . . and the new sun rise, bringing the New Year.

The Order of the Table Round

WITH the blood-curdling sound of iron grating upon iron, the massive drawbridge was lowered and across the dreaded moat marched many knights eager to prove their mettle in the famed Arthurian Court. By diligence and devotion to duty they showed their gratitude to those who had removed financial barriers and thus extended them the privilege of entering this kingdom.

Now the Knights are entering the lists, preparing to appear before the reviewing stand. They march with the pomp and pride of veterans. For three years they have valiantly struggled and studied the duties of knighthood. It is the last review and they are about to receive from Arthur the insignia of true knights which are called, in modern parlance, diplomas.

To the Knights, ambitious of pursuing their course of study further, Arthur awards the College Preparatory Diploma. This distinction is significant of the student's fine work and makes him eligible to enter any standard college. To the business leaders of tomorrow, Arthur awards a Commercial Diploma which qualifies the recipient to continue his life's work among the more mature masters of industry. To those Knights who have prepared themselves for any profession that may attract their ability, Arthur awards a General Diploma.

As the Herald sounds the trumpet, the Squires wheel into the parade. Joy and expectancy are written upon their faces. They have served faithfully for two years and they look forward to the time when they too shall be Knights and participate in the glamour of the Last Tournament.

The third group is made up of Pages. They come timidly. They have hardly tried their spurs or laid their lances in rest. But they are eager, loyal, and anxious to learn from their elders.

And now from the far side of the lists, the Free Lancers come riding alertly forward. They are uncertain, but bold and willing, and happy too in the thought that they have the combined privileges of the other classes. They aspire to be good subjects and they hold their heads high and step proudly.

Thus the pomp and pageantry of Free Lancers, Pages, Squires, and Knights pass before the throne of Arthur and the goodly company fares forth to seek a new adventure.

Knight's Oath

I made them lay their hands in mine and swear
To reverence the King, as if he were
Their conscience, and their conscience as their King,
To break the heathen and uphold the Christ,
To ride abroad redressing human wrongs,
To speak no slander, no nor listen to it,
To honor his own word as if his God's,
To lead sweet lives in purest chastity,
To love one maiden only, cleave to her,
And worship her by years of noble deeds,
Until they won her.

Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Basketball 3; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 3, 4; Marshal 4; Class Treasurer 2; French Club 4.

Beatrice has endeared herself to a great many people. Her cheerful disposition, her indomitable spirit, and her genuine loyalty, combined with a superb brain, make her an ideal student and friend.

WILLIAM UMSTEAD ALBRIGHT

"BILL"

Invention breeds invention.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Secretary 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Phy-Chem Club 4; Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 2; Boxing Manager 3; Stunt Cast 3; Senior Play Cast 4.

"Bill" has a special adaptability for writing sports articles. Next to talking about his various lady-loves and driving model "T" Fords, he likes science best. This scientific ability will carry him far in his career.

OSCAR APTER

"USHER"

Life is real, life is earnest.

Blackwell Literary Society 2; Carr Literary Society 4.

Judge Apter is as fair in his judgments as King Arthur; not only that, but he is always ready to do his part in any activity. His politeness and ready smile have won for him many friends among both his classmates and his teachers.

JOHN DAVID GEORGE ARMSTRONG

The early sower ne'er borrows from the late.

Nature Study Club 2, 3, 4; President 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

John goes in for aquatic sports and stays in the swim constantly. Horticulture has become his goal and some day he hopes it will become his gold. He likes Bookkeeping (provided it isn't a library book that costs two cents a day to keep). He has worked like a Trojan for the Nature Study Club—but after all, that's his nature!

RUBY MARIE BAGWELL

She preaches best who lives best.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Girls Chorus, 2, 4; Mixed Chorus 2, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Ruby is quiet and unassuming, but she enjoys a host of friends. By her scholastic record, Ruby proves that she can accomplish whatever she undertakes. Her readiness to serve and her true friendship will carry her safely through the trials of life.

EVELYN LONA BARBEE

She has a thousand virtues

And not one acknowledged sin.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 3; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Red-heads, as well as stop lights, call for a second look. Everybody stops, looks, and listens when Evelyn speaks or appears. In addition to her striking personality, Evelyn's dependability and efficiency have made her a great asset to the Senior Class.

LEATRICE BARBER

Things not understood are admired.

Commercial Club 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

This striking young brunette with the curly locks is one of the most unique members of the Senior Class. Her face constantly radiates good humor and friendliness. We wish her luck in whatever she undertakes.

RALPH CALDWELL BARKER, JR.

"BUTCH"

Jests spare no one.

Art Club 3, 4; Kiwan Club 2; Carr Literary Society 2; Carmichael Literary Society 3.

A new out-burst of funny faces and cartoons! Ralph, the comic artist, has been loose again. Ralph's disposition is thoroughly in keeping with the type of art on which he spends much of his time and a great deal of talent. His wit is ever ready, and his humor always appreciated. A school favorite!

HOWARD FRANCIS BASILE

"BLONDIE"

A bit of humor is ever appreciated.

Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Boys' Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Mixed Chorus 2, 3, 4; Band 2, 3, 4.

Let us present Howard Basile, the Don Juan of D. H. S. His Spanish characteristics supply a perfect background for his ever appropriate wise cracks. Howard's weaknesses are hot dogs, brunettes, and music.

CHEATUM DUNCAN BECK

The beaten road is the safest.

Boys' Glee Club 2, 4.

Cheatum holds that "too much study is a weariness of the flesh." College does not have any lure for him. He has a mind for business and will surely be a success in the field he longs to enter.

JOSEPH FRANK BERINI

"STUMPY"

A mighty spirit fills that tiny frame.

Football 4; Baseball 3, 4; Boxing 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 3.

A great little football player is Joe. His actions on the gridiron this year have been approved by many admiring spectators. Carnegie Tech will be lucky to have him.

IDA MAE BERRY

"IKEY"

A good cause makes a stout heart and a strong arm.

Home Room Treasurer 2, Vice-President 2; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3; Commercial Club 2; Library Council 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Student Council 2.

Ikey—"service worker"! She knows not the meaning of that disgusting word "failure." May she never experience anything but success and happiness.

WILLIAM ORMOND BLACKLEY

"BILL"

Loyalty is worth more than money.

Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4, Circulation Manager 4; Student Council 2, 3; Stunt Cast 2; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3; Baseball Manager 3; Kiwan Club 2; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Monogram Club 3, 4.

Bill has that particularly enviable quality of being able to entertain anybody from Singapore to Spain. Red-headed and business-like, he has proved invaluable to the Hi-Rocket—Miss Herr can vouch for that.

RUTH OLIVE BLALOCK

There is grace in small things.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Ruth is a little miss who is just brimming over with fun and mischief. She is capable of doing almost any work to which she turns her hand. She likes to talk, read books, and study (when there is nothing to interfere).

MILDRED HEAVLYN BOBBITT

Help the lame dog over the stile.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Art Club 4; Basketball Team 3; Varsity Volley Ball Team 3.

Always smiling, always encouraging, sometimes studying—that's Mildred. Living in her own quiet way, and always close to the home economics department, she has been a real part of D. H. S.

RICHARD FRANKLIN BODDIE

"DICK"

*Smooth runs the water
Where the brook is deep.*

Nature Study Club 2, 4, Vice-President 4; Dramatic Club 4.

Richard has spent three very profitable years at D. H. S., profitable not only for himself but for those with whom he has come in contact. We will remember him as a fellow who has ability, a sense of humor, a pleasing disposition, and all the other qualities which make a gentleman.

FRANCES GERTRUDE BOND

Deep-versed in books and pleasant in herself.

Home Room Vice-President 2; Athene Literary Society 3, 4, Vice-President 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 2, 3, 4, Literary Editor 4; Aycock Debating Team 4, Alternate 3; Stunt Cast 2; Blue Triangle 2; Needlework Guild 4; French Club 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Winner of State Latin Contest 4; Class Day 3; French Contest 4.

Frances is one of our true leaders. Her work on the Hi-Rocket, on the debating team, and in the State Latin Contest has been unusually good. She possesses an agreeable amount of dignity and a vivid personality. Seldom does one find a person in whom these varying traits are combined to such great advantage.

VICTOR BANKS BOWLING

"VIC"

Good sense and good humor are qualities few have.

Boys Chorus 2, 3, 4; Mixed Chorus 2, 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 2, Marshal 4; Class Secretary 2, Vice-President 3; Treasurer 4; Student Council 3; Hi-Y 2, 3; Art Club 3, 4; President 4; Phy-Chem Club 3; Messenger Staff 4; Head Cheer Leader 3, 4.

"Vic," the man of many sides—the cheer leader, the musician, the swimmer, the artist, the dancer. His cheerful smile and friendly ways make him the center of many groups—chiefly girls. The hero of the school!

ROBERT LEE BRAME, JR.

"BOB"

Not too serious, not too gay.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2.

"Bob" owes his popularity in D. H. S. to his ability "To sing a merry note." He has won the friendship of his classmates by this method. Throughout his high school career, sports and science have gone hand in hand with music.

ELIZABETH GENEVA BRINKLEY

"LIB"

All things are easy that are done willingly.

O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Needlework Guild 4; Dramatics 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

We are lucky to have such a good student as "Lib" in D. H. S. She is dependable, well poised, likable, and congenial. Although we hate to part with her, we are sure that her well-poised manner will certainly win her a successful career as librarian.

NEEDHAM PRESTON BROADWELL

"BROADWELL"

All delays are dangerous in love.

Science Club 3; Blackwell Literary Society 2; Commercial Club 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4.

Needham is a regular fellow. His ambition is to acquire a commercial education, which he has started with flying colors. He can operate a typewriter as only an expert can, and he can keep books very efficiently.

MARTHA EDITH BROGDEN

"MATCHES"

The eyes have one language everywhere.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Chaplain 3; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 2; Volley Ball Team 2; Home Room Secretary 2; Monitor 4.

Edith goes through life "just singing a song." Worries and cares never bother her. She takes things as they come and never complains. Everybody falls for her charming ways—even a little Coöp boy!

WILLIS JAMES BROGDEN, JR.

"BILL"

So many virtues joined in him as we Can scarce find here and there in history.

Blackwell Society 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3; President 4; Hi-Rocket 2; Football 3, 4; French Club 3; Messenger 3, 4; Editor-in-chief 4; Student Council 4; Home Room Treasurer 2; Vice-President 3; President 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

"Bill" has so distinguished himself on the gridiron, in the class room, and in various other activities that D. H. S. is going to suffer a keen loss when she loses this all 'round good student. However, his fellow classmates are confident that they will soon have an able lawyer to plead all of their cases.

HUBERT FRANKLIN BROWNING

"BIG BOY"

In soul sincere, in action faithfu', in honor clear.

Football 4; Basketball 4; Track 4; Carr Literary Society 4; Home Room President 4; Student Council 4; Messenger 4; Monogram Club 4.

Hubert's nickname, "Big Boy," fits him perfectly, for he is a big boy in size and does things in a big way. One glance at his list of honors will convince anyone that he is preëminently an athlete. He is more than an athlete; he is a good student and an able leader.

JOHN RUPERT GUNTER BRYAN

"RUPE"

There is time for all worthwhile things.

Football 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Wrestling 2, 3; Track 2, 3, 4; Carr Literary Society 2, 3; Carmichael Literary Society 4; Dramatic Class 3, 4; Treasurer 3; President 4; Stage Committee 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Cabinet 4; Hi-Y 2, 3; Home Room President 2, 3; Boys' Chorus 4; Mixed Chorus 4.

Rupert's hard earned and enviable football record goes hand-in-hand with his long-winded name. His success in the school is sufficient proof of his popularity and exceedingly good standing with both students and teachers. May the Wake Forest football team acclaim new heights while "Rupe" is playing his heart out for them.

MARGARET FRANCES BUGG

"BUGGIE"

Leave a jest when it pleases you best.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4.

Everybody knows Margaret. Full of humor, ready for anything, she breezes along the hall with strings of admirers at her side. The place our "Blonde Venus" leaves will be hard to fill.

ESTELLE THOMAS BULLOCK

"TOM"

If music be the food of love—play on.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4.

"Tom" is another one of our music lovers. She is a real artist at the piano—she has great possibilities of becoming a second Paderewski.

MAE RUTH BULLOCK

Great good nature is great fortune.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 3; Secretary, 4.

Ruth is endowed with dark dreamy eyes, fringed with long curly lashes. She has a great many gifts from the gods. They have given to her a good disposition, the ability to win friends, and the enviable power to learn easily and quickly. She adores French and has the ambition to teach it.

DOROTHY CORNELIA BURNETTE

"DOT"

It is folly to fret; grief's no comfort.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Home Room Treasurer 2, 3; Athletic Association 2, 3; Home Room Chaplain 4.

Dorothy is a favorite among us. She is very efficient in two arts. One of these is the art of making people laugh, and the other is that more far-reaching one of making them her friends.

NANCY MAE CABLE

"NANKY"

Next to faith in God is faith in labor.

O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

"Nanky" is one of the most likable girls in D. H. S. and by her own pleasing personality has won her place in our hearts. With an ambition to be a stenographer and a hobby to travel, someday she may be a traveling man's stenographer! Who knows?

BRUCE CANNADY

Be silent and safe—silence never betrays you.

Carr Society 2; Commercial Club 2, 4; Nature Study Club 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

A quiet unassuming youth is Bruce, who moves about the school in a stately manner. Although his words are few and far between, it might be well to remember that "it is a fool that cannot keep his tongue." Durham High will suffer greatly when this calm executive sallies forth into the business world of tomorrow.

OTIS MANUEL CAPSALIS

"PROSPERITY"

Not so good to borrow as to be able to lend.

Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

There is not a more cheerful and unselfish fellow to be found than Otis Capsalis. He is always ready to help his friends in any possible manner, and does not hesitate to inconvenience himself in doing so. Such a congenial and fair minded person cannot but be liked by all.

WILLIAM FREDERICK CARR, JR.

"BILL"

Step by step one goes far.

Football 4; Track 4; Monogram Club 4; Athletic Association 4.

"Bill," of the gridiron, is addicted to the brunettes forever and then some. Of course, gentlemen prefer blondes, but then you know Willie Carr! His stride would make an ostrich blush in shame. This, incidently is his first year with us. He studies once in a while, likes history right well, and wants to be a big business man. Good Knight!

GRACE VIRGINIA CARRINGTON

"GRACIE"

*To hear her sing; to hear her sing
It is to hear the birds of spring.*

Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Southgate Literary Society 3, 4; Critic 3; President 4; Commercial Club 2, 3; Hi-Rocket Staff 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4.

Here is a girl who will attain even higher honors, for her talent is being generally recognized. More than once has she won honor for herself and her school. If someday soon we don't see her in the cast of the Metropolitan Opera, we'll eat our hat (or would if we wore one).

EVELYN ORO CASHWELL

"TAB"

Cleverness and versatility predict future achievement.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Monitor 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Cabinet 4; Needlework Guild 4.

As the entire Senior Class knows, Evelyn is one of those persons possessing a charming personality and the ability to make friends easily. She wishes to become a competent secretary. May she be successful! She will.

DORIS M. CATES

"DINKEY"

*True eyes,
Too pure and honest, in aught to disguise
The sweet soul shining through them.*

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 2; Glee Club 2, 3; Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3; Needlework Guild 4; Messenger Staff 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Bubbling over with life! That's Doris. Brown eyes, twinkling with mirth and mischief! Who wouldn't be glad and even proud to be in the same class with her? There's a serious side to Doris, too. She's always eager and willing to do her part.

ELOISE EMMER CHAPPELLE

Life has more of sun than sorrow.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4.

Reciting is Eloise's talent, and she never fails to favor us with one of her quite amusing readings. She is the possessor of dramatic ability; and someday, we are sure, she will make her mark in the movie world.

BURTON CHEATHAM

"BURT"

A friend in need is a friend indeed.

Commercial Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Coöp Class 4; Home Room Treasurer 4.

"Burt" is everybody's friend, a sturdy student, and an exceptional talker. (Mr. deBruyne is a witness to the last fact.) Whether he works or whether he plays, he does it with a vim that spells success.

NELL THOMAS CHEEK

"TOT"

She doth good to all her friends.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

"Tot" is proof of the old adage, "The most precious things come in small packages." Nell's wit and good-nature are valuable traits. Her ambition is to be a nurse. Whom she means to nurse, we don't know; but we do know that the patient will get splendid attention.

ALFRED MARIUS CLEGG

"RUNT"

I heard of this man and good words went with him.

Coöp Class 4.

Diminutive in size perhaps, but certainly not in spirit, is Marius. He has a smile that would melt the sternest frown. If he makes as big a hit in his profession as he does with the Durham High girls, well—look out, world!

ROBERT ALDER CLEMENT

"BOB"

Manners make the man.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3; Home Room President 3; Treasurer 3; Messenger Staff 3, 4; Commencement Marshal 3; Football 2, 4.

"Bob" is admirably suited for the course of life he has chosen. His graciousness, his politeness, and his winning manner are excellent attributes for a lawyer. We wish him success and good luck!

LUCILE UNDERWOOD COLE

"CILE"

*A smile for all, a greeting glad,
A friendly, jolly way she had.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Library Council 4; Secretary 4; Readers Club 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Girls Varsity Basketball Team 3; Needlework Guild 4.

A loyal student and a true friend is "Cile." She is particularly outstanding in school activities. With her will and determination there is no doubt but that she will succeed in her future plans.

SEBA JELLE COLLINS, JR.

"S. J."

A Giant in Heart is he.

Current Events Club 2; Carr Literary Society 3, 4; Phy-Chem 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

"S. J.," with his winning smile, has made many friends among the students of Durham High School. May the same success follow you through State College and in your chosen field of Civil Engineering!

TRELA DEMPSEY COLLINS, JR.

"TED"

No one was ever ruined by speaking the truth.

Blackwell Literary Society 3, 4; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Chorus 2; Orchestra 3, 4; Band 2, 3, 4; Tennis Club 3, President 3; Home Room Treasurer 3, Vice-President 4; Tennis Team 2, 3, 4.

"Ted" began raising a "racket" when he was two days old and has been playing with a "racket" ever since. This has netted him much profit and pleasure, for he serves the school well. Try to match this game fellow's record.

CLELLIE LILLIAN COPLEY

"LIL"

Moderation in all things.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Lillian is one of our unknown quantities. Quiet, dignified, reserved, she has won the hearts of all who know her. With all her quietness, she has strong convictions and sticks to them. A storehouse of sympathy—such is Lillian.

LONDON LYON CORBIN

Learning makes a man fit company for himself.

Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4, Make-up Editor 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3; Home Room Secretary 2; Cafeteria Helper 3, 4; Aycock Debate 4.

Landon has been an outstanding student throughout his high school days. He has proved himself a very valuable member of the Hi-Rocket Staff and Page Literary Society; in fact, in every phase of the school life he has been recognized as a leader.

DORIS DEMETRIA COUCH

"DODO"

*Happy am I, from care and free;
Why ain't they all contented like me?*

Needlework Guild 3; Home Room Vice-President 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball Team 2; Declamation Contest 2; Commercial Club 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 2; Senior Play Cast 4.

Doris is just brimming over with good humor and gaiety. She is a great lover of basketball; and if she studies as hard in college as she plays basketball in D. H. S., we are positive that she will reach the goal for which she is striving—a college degree.

MARY FRANCES COUNCIL

"SMILEY"

Pleasure tasteth well after service.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 2, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Home Room Vice-President 3.

Quelle femme!—this charming and attractive personality of the class of '34. Carolina will certainly profit by our loss when Council sets her dancing feet upon her threshold. Her collection of pins and rings attest her popularity.

JAMES FRANKLIN COUSINS
"JIM"

A firm yet cautious mind.

Walter Hines Page Literary Society 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4, Business Manager 4; Activity Stunt Cast 2.

James has proved to be a student of great business ability. Modest and unassuming, he has entered into his varied activities, especially the Hi-Rocket, with such whole-heartedness, earnestness, sincerity, and friendliness, that he has won the deserved admiration of the student body, the business men, and the teachers.

NORMAN HUGH CRABTREE
"BEAN"

He can put two and two together.

Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4.

"Bean" is not the most talkative member of the class, but he proves an old theory that "deeds speak louder than words." He will long be remembered not only for his agreeable manners but also for his mathematical ability.

MIRIAM CHRISTIAN CRAIG
"QUEEN"

Godly prize is a sweet nature.

O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 4; Sophomore Basketball 3; Senior Basketball 4.

Miriam says that she doesn't know yet what she is going to be when she "grows up." But with those dimples, carnation cheeks, and that "come hither look"—we can guess. Although from all appearances she is a very quiet lass, she has certainly left her imprint on the school.

LA RUE FRANKLIN CRIBBS
"He was the mildest mannered man."

He was the mildest mannered man.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Football 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2; Home Room Officer 2, 3; Monogram Club 3, 4.

La Rue has the reputation of being a nonchalant, carefree hero. His outstanding ability on the gridiron and his princely features have acquired for him many valuable friends. This engineer-to-be is destined for success at Cornell.

ANNIE WHITTY DANIEL
"WHIT"

She smiled, and the shadows departed.

Home Room Secretary 3; Treasurer 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; President 4; French Club 3, 4; President 4; Library Council 4; Hi-Rocket 2, 3; Messenger 2, 3, 4; Literary Editor 4; Sophomore Basketball Team 2; Needlework Guild 4; Director 4; Activity Stunt Cast 2; Class Day 3; French Contest 4; Latin Contest 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 4.

Such a pretty little girl with such a sweet personality cannot be disliked by anyone. Brains and beauty, equally distributed, make Annie Whitty a most charming member of the weaker sex. She aspires to be an authoress. We are looking forward to reading her literature.

EDITH CLAIRE DENNIS

That caressing and exquisite grace.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2; Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Secretary 4; Music Club 2, 3; Cafeteria Helper 3; May Day Festival 2.

The young lady possessing this beautiful appellation towers to the stars not only in her height but also in her ambition. Tall and stately she reminds one of the "Lady of the Lake." It will only take horn-rimmed glasses to complete the picture of a private secretary, to which position she aspires.

HEZRO J. DENNIS, JR.

He sits high in all the peoples' hearts.

Baseball 3.

Here's another dashing "Romeo" who will be missed by those who dwell in these noble halls. His ambition, to finish school, will soon be realized. No doubt, he has other visions; if not, we know a certain young lady who has.

THOMAS L. DIXON

"TOM"

One false move may lose the game.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Football 2, 4; Monogram Club 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Track 3; Dramatic Club 4.

Here comes another athlete! "Tom," like several others, has studied football until he simply knows it. The tide of many a game has been turned by his good work. He has always been popular and will leave a place hard to fill by any less talented than himself.

MARION EDITH DUNN

"MINNIE"

A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market.

Southgate Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4, Chaplain 4; Library Council 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Girls Glee Club 1, 2.

Here comes "Minnie"! Nonchalantly she strolls through the halls, oblivious of everything and everybody. However, one of these days she will make a most efficient secretary—when have good looks and good brains failed to make a perfect combination?

ALFRED L. EAKES

Steady and accurate wins the race.

Football 2, 3; Commercial Club 4; Civics Club 4.

Here is a regular fellow, a steady worker, and a good friend. Alfred sticks to any job he tackles. This may prove to be of much value to him when he becomes an aeronautical engineer.

BENNETT SIMPSON EDWARDS

"BEN"

Practice makes perfect.

Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Mixed Chorus 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 3, 4.

"Ben" is a quiet, reserved, modest young man, who does most of his thinking in terms of music. He not only sings but also plays his way through each succeeding school day. One does not really know "Ben" until one hears him display his musical talent.

DOUGLAS EDWARDS

Heard ye not the hum of mighty workings?

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4.

Plucky Douglas has been keeping something from us. We knew she was quite athletic and preferred math to any other subject, but we never even suspected that she was artistically inclined. Her hobby is painting furniture.

ELLEN IRENE EDWARDS

"PAT"

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Messenger Staff 4.

Quiet, but brilliant—that's Irene. Her many friends have found that she has a smile and an encouraging word for everybody. Her record in making good grades is a splendid start for secretarial work.

VIRGINIA PEARL EDWARDS

"JINKS"

Nothing is so strong as gentleness.

Nothing is so gentle as strength.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Home Room President 2, Treasurer 3.

We'll never forget the pretty young heroine of "Nothing But the Truth." Although this was her first outstanding performance, Virginia won amazing credit not only for herself but also for the school. Here's to you, Virginia; may you meet with similar success in the future!

VIRGINIA HILL EMORY

She is a friend indeed, with all a friend's virtue shining bright.

Southgate Literary Society 3, 4, Critic 4, President 4; Music Club 3, 4; Art Club 4; Needlework Guild 4; Commercial Club 2.

This young tennis fan with the fair face is particularly interested in the arts. During her high school days she has been a participant in the activities of both Music and Art clubs. Her winning personality will make her an efficient kindergarten teacher.

HELEN RUTH EUDY

Modesty is the beauty of women.

O. Henry Literary Society 4; Needlework Guild 4; Commercial Club 3; Dramatic Club 4; Athletic Association 3.

Ruth is one of those inconspicuous, and yet absolutely necessary characters who does her bit very effectively. Especially during her senior year has she blossomed forth with that determination which is destined to make her an efficient secretary.

WILLIAM LEE FARTHING, JR.

"BILL"

The counsel you would have another keep, first keep yourself.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3; Nature Study Club 3; Coöp. Activities 4; Boxing 2, 3.

Though French seemed a "Jonah" for Bill, it failed to dampen his determination. He sticks with a grin. He has the real traits of character that are found only in worthy men.

THEODORE FASON

"TED"

There is no time like the present.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3; Manager Wrestling Team 2; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3; Coöp. Class 4.

The way that Theodore makes friends so easily is quite a mystery but no less an attribute. As a member of the Coöperative Class during his Senior year, he has proved himself a hard worker in two fields. We admire his pluck!

WILLIAM BURROUGHS FAUCETTE

"BILL"

Perseverance always wins.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 3, 4, President 4.

"Bill" is one of D. H. S.'s hustlers. He has quite a reputation for finishing completely anything which is asked of him. His interest in science has shown him to be a genius in the making. Many things are expected of the future "Edison."

LUCILLE EMMA GARRARD

"LUCY"

They are wise that speak not much.

Athena Literary Society 4; Needlework Guild 4.

"Lucy," who is a rather quiet "miss," is the picture of agreeableness and congeniality in the minds of her classmates. Our best wishes go with her as she leaves.

ROMEO RAYMOND GERMINO

"ROMEY"

He plays well that wins.

Football 2, 3, 4, Captain 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Wrestling 2, 3, 4; President Junior Class 3; President Student Body 4.

There's only one Romeo in the entire school, but what a Romeo he is! Whether on the football field or in the school he has always proved himself a leader. He has led a hard-fighting football team to the state championship; and as president of the Student Body, he is setting the pace for the entire school.

GEORGE LEROY GIBSON

"HOOT"

*A smile for all, a greeting glad,
A friendly, jolly way he had.*

Current Events Club 2.

Here is the boy with a perpetual smile. Our "Hoot" has made a place for himself here in just the same way as the original "Hoot" has in the hearts of those who love the West and its heroes. This place, we know, will be hard to fill.

CHRISTINE MADELINE GILMORE

Nothing good was ever accomplished without enthusiasm.

Art Club 4, Treasurer 4; Glee Club 3; Swimming 3.

A rare combination of wit, humor, sense, and stability, agreeably mixed with an optimistic disposition characterizes Christine. She is a good sport and a very dependable person. She'll find success anywhere.

NATHAN WILBUR GLADSTEIN

"NAT"

Live and learn.

Current Events Club 2; Art Club 4.

So little "Nat" wants to be an explorer! Still, it will be a noble undertaking if he can only discover as many new lands as he has already discovered comic faces. The explorer's world is certainly due a surprise when this dynamic personality enters his chosen profession. Nat is an artist.

DOROTHY GRETCHEN GOODRICH

*Her hair is brown, her eyes are blue,
She's an athlete through and through.*

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Volley Ball 4; Tennis 3, 4.

Gretchen is not only a good citizen but also a most proficient participant in athletics. She is always ready and eager to take part in Mrs. Hostettler's projects. Who could be better fitted for a Physical Education teacher?

MILDRED LAURETTA GOODRICH

"MIRD"

She is pretty to walk with, witty to Talk with, and pleasant to think on.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, Secretary 2; Reader's Club 4, Vice-President 4; Needlework Guild 4.

"Mird" can almost be called "Rythm" because of her love of music and dancing. Already she is starting her career as a musician, for she accompanies the D. H. S. orchestra, composes music in her spare time, and is delving deep into the study of organ-playing.

EDNA LOUISE GRESHAM

"ED"

She that is constant will reach the goal.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Here's a nice little girl with blond hair and serious grey eyes. Her eyes are not her only serious features—she takes life seriously though she allows a little of merriment and mirth to enter in. "Once a friend, always a friend" is Edna's motto.

WILLIAM KIMBALL GRIFFIN

"DINAH"

*If I do now a friendship vow,
I will perform it to the last article.*

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Marshal 3; Hi-Y Club 2; Stunt Cast 3; Football 3, 4; Wrestling 3, 4, Captain 4; Vice-President of Student Body 4; Home Room Vice-President 3, Chaplain 4; Monogram Club 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

"Dinah" is our "135 pounds of dynamite," who has starred not only on the gridiron but also on the mat. If he is as successful in the medical world as he has been in his high school career, he will find achievement of the highest quality.

KATHLEEN DELORIS GULLEY

She was a scholar, and a ripe, and good one.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; French Club 3, 4.

Have you ever met anybody totally different from the rest of your acquaintances? Well, here's one of those personalities. Every six-weeks her name appears on the first honor-roll, and every six-weeks more students wonder and marvel at her diligent work in Latin. She determines to teach this subject and is perhaps the only one in the senior class who has chosen such a profession.

MELBA ELLEN GUNTER

"LITTLE-BIT"

You're uncommon in one thing; you're uncommon small.

Home Room Secretary 3; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Girls Chorus 2.

Stature is the only small thing about Melba. She has large interests such as shorthand and a certain one we know of the masculine sex. Her mental powers are full-sized, too, for she always gets along.

ELMORE HOWARD HACKNEY

"ELEC"

In sports and journeys men are known.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4, Co-captain 4; Track 2, 3, 4, Captain 2; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4; Cafeteria Helper 4; Home Room Vice-President 2, Secretary 2, Treasurer 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Stunt Cast 2.

In every emergency our "indomitable back" can be depended upon to arise to the occasion. Good looks and skill in athletics will send him far on the road to his goal. We wish him luck!

MILDRED MARIE HALL

"MIT"

As charm's a nonsense, so is nonsense a charm.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4, Secretary 4; Athletic Association 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Are you looking for pep and energy? If so, "Mit" is the person for whom you are searching. With her cheerful words, dancing eyes, and happy-go-lucky ways, she is able to drive away the depressing gloom that may envelop any group.

EDITH MARIA HAMMACK

In prosperity, caution; in adversity, patience.

French Club 3, 4; Athena Literary Society 3, 4.

We are exceedingly proud of Edith, for she is one of our honor students. By her steady work she has upheld the scholastic standing of our class. Edith is a capable student, and one who will surely succeed in life.

G. C. HAYNES

"GRANDPA"

Great good nature is great fortune.

Page Literary Society 2; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 2, 3, 4; Band 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2.

How G. C. got the name of "Grandpa" we don't know. He is anything but old-fashioned in his ideas. In anything he does, he personifies energy. We feel sure that his goal in life is now in sight.

MARION KIRK HENDERSON

In she came, one vast, substantial smile.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 4; Needlework Guild 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2; Hockey 2, 3.

Those large brown eyes and that never ceasing smile of Marion's will never be forgotten by her classmates. Because of her cheerful disposition and congeniality we feel sure that she will become an excellent nurse, for such is her desire.

CHRIS N. HIBBERD, JR.

*Rare compound of oddity, frolic, and fun
Who relished a joke and rejoiced in a pun.*

Chris is gifted with a keen mind, and a store of ready wit. He has followed the policy of not allowing his studies to interfere with his education. As proof of this we point to the many week-ends spent in pursuing those of the fairer sex.

JULIA LEE HIGHSMITH

"JULIE"

She smiles to drive dull care away.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 2, Vice-President 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Reader's Club 4.

"Julie" is a sophisticated blonde who is equally as brilliant as she looks. Her poise and wit are admired by all her classmates and combine to make her one of the most popular members of the "class of '34."

VIRGINIA WELLINGTON HOFFLER

Of plain, sound sense

Life's current coin is made.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 2, President 4; Secretary 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Art Club 3; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Tennis 3; Volley Ball, 3.

We find in Virginia a diligent worker and an expert basketball player. She is one of the few who wish to own a beauty parlor. Her own beauty and character will send her far toward success.

VIRGINIA ELIZABETH HOOKER

"LIBBY"

We should try to succeed by merit not by favor.

Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Chaplain 2, Stunt Cast 2, President 3; Student Council 2; Mixed Chorus 2, 3; Athletic Association 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Needlework Guild 4; French Club 3, 4.

Mr. Carter can assure you of Elizabeth's interest and ability in science. Her ambition, to become a zoölogist, will certainly be realized if she continues the good work she has started. Luck to you, Elizabeth!

MARTHA VIRGINIA HUNNICUTT

To see her is to love her.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4.

Hailing from the capital city, Raleigh, Martha was quickly transformed into a true "Durhamite." Old rivalries melted into nothingness as she rapidly became a loyal supporter of all our activities. The large place which she occupies in the hearts of the students is richly deserved. Her rare charm and beauty have radiated a most wholesome influence over the entire school.

FRANCES MAE HUNT

The cause is guide, and the word's "Farther On."

Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 4.

Optimism is characteristic of Frances. Modestly she brightens the lives of those with whom she comes in contact. May she prove a ray of sunshine to others in her chosen profession of nursing.

NATHANIEL RICHARDSON HUNTER, JR.

"NAT"

Where there's a will, there's a way.

Carmichael Literary Society 2; Monogram Club 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Baseball 3, 4; Commercial Club 2; Home Room Vice-President 2, 3, 4; President 4.

"Nat" expresses a keen desire to be a successful business man when he becomes of age. If he smacks the old wolf of depression as hard as he hits a baseball, his success is practically assured.

EMORY STUART ISAACS

A happy nature hath a help for every ill.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Marshal 3; Vice-President 4; Current Events Club 4; Secretary-Treasurer 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Stunt Cast 3.

Red-headed Stuart strolls down the hall with a cranial cavity full of common sense which he uses to argue himself out of dangerous places when confronted by English teachers. He has a host of admirers—blondes in particular.

CECIL B. JACKSON

"JACK"

*He does his task from day to day
And meets whatever comes his way.*

Mixed Chorus 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 3, 4; Coroso Players 2, 3, 4; Phy-Chem 4; Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4.

"The Pride of the Coöps" is an appropriate epithet for this versatile scholar. He has shown by his most impressive record that he has "what it takes." Many a noble course has fallen prey to his studious mind.

LOUIS B. JENNINGS

"PEE WEE"

A good name keeps its luster in the dark.

Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Chaplain 3; Messenger 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 3; Glee Clubs 2, 3; Vice-President Class 2.

It is true that "little things often cast big shadows." Defeat is impossible to Louis because of his smiling optimistic slant on life. His unbounding supply of energy and diligence in performing his work will prove invaluable in his future career as a minister.

EDWIN PIERCE JOHNSON

"BILL"

He that resolves to conquer a task and doeth so, deserves praise.

Commercial Club 2, 3; Boxing 3, 4; Stunt Cast 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

Bill's appearance and personality have won him many admirers among the fairer sex. In spite of these fair admirers, he has been useful to the boxing team and has also made a name for himself in the machine shop. Here's hoping "Engineer Bill" will erect many skyscrapers and bridges.

CHARLIE REED JONES

"PUDDIN' HEAD"

A man that hath friends must show himself friendly.

Blackwell Literary Society 4; Phy-Chem 4; Athletic Association 4.

Charlie may be small, but the number of his friends symbolizes his spirit. Since he possesses the qualities of a true gentleman, he is sure to reflect honor on the class of '34. Though Durham High loses a "star," Carolina gains one.

E. LINWOOD JONES, JR.

"LIN"

I hate to see things done by halves; if it be right, do it boldly; if it be wrong, leave it undone.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3; Coöp Play 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

It takes an unusual combination of manly traits to make the kind of leader that Linwood has made during his sojourn at Durham High. It is the profound regret of the Coöperative class that he cannot transmit this quality or these qualities to the ones who shall attempt to "carry on" while he is searching for higher laurels. Whatever might be his other achievements, they will never outweigh the splendid spirit and zealous effort which he has displayed while striving here.

MARGARET LOUISE JONES

A beautiful woman is worth some pains to see.

Library Council 3, 4; President 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Secretary 4; Reader's Club 4; President 4; Athletic Association 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Needlework Guild 4, Director 4; Home Room Treasurer 4.

Margaret is one of our most faithful workers. A tall and stately blonde, she makes a lovely picture presiding over activities of the library. We are sure that her ability along this line will enable her to climb still higher in other fields.

ANABEL KEMP

"ANNIE"

God gives all to industry.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

"Annie," an active and capable student of D. H. S., is known throughout the whole school. She finds no task too hard; she is a girl of high ambitions and unusual ability. As a loyal, sympathetic, and sincere friend, her equal is hard to find.

VIRGINIA KEMP

"JINKS"

*Far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife
She kept the noiseless tenor of her way.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

Virginia is one of our best and most reserved girls. Diligent application certainly has good results—at least it does in "Jink's" case. All the French students leave it to her to figure out a lesson en Français.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT KING

"BILL"

It is better to be happy than wise.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 2; Monogram Club 3, 4; Home Room Vice-President 3; Captain Basketball Team 3; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Baseball 4; Stunt Cast 3.

"Bill" has such a disarming smile that he could borrow ten dollars so graciously that the lender would never miss it. By his participation in various sports, he has become the hero of many students. Both teachers and students will miss "Skutooli."

ARTHUR WINFIELD KNIGHT

"OTT"

Little chips light great fires.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y Club 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Tennis Club 2, 3; Football Manager 3; Monogram Club 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Senior Play Cast 4.

What is the height of ambition? Arthur says that it consists in being a successful business man. With his ability for reading Virgil, his trait of friendliness, and his ability to manage business affairs, he need not worry about his future.

JULIAN CARR LENTZ, JR.

*Stately and tall he walks through the hall,
The chief of a thousand for grace.*

Page Literary Society 4; Secretary 4; Commercial Club 4; Home Room Vice-President 4; Treasurer 4; Commercial Club Cabinet 4; Senior Play Cast 4.

Julian came to Durham as a Senior. When he entered the door, the heart of many a high school girl skipped a beat. Handsome he is, but neither self-conscious nor conceited. It won't be hard for a real fellow like Julian to get along in any environment.

ISAAC ARTHUR LINDSEY, JR.

Those who excel in the arts can never have an empty life.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 2, 3, 4.

Everyone knows Arthur for his mastery of the violin. However, his ability is not limited to music. He is a hard worker, a regular guy, and a deep thinker. His ambition is to make someone happy. No one with such an ambition as this can possibly fail.

JAMES THOMAS LOVE

"BUTCH"

I am sure that exertion does not agree with a quiet peaceable like me.

Football 2, 3, 4; Boxing 2; Wrestling 3; Track 3, 4; Varsity Club 2, 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

James Thomas Love, better known as "Butch," has been noted for his great and superior ability to sleep on class. However, in spite of the attacks by the sandman, "Butch" has shown his courage and mettle both on the football field and on the mat. When he leaves, his carefree attitude will be missed greatly by the student body.

EUGENE FRANK LYON

"GENE"

Ambition has no rest.

Music 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2.

"Gene" is rather serious-minded, but he is also gay when the time and occasion calls for gaiety. He does everything with a certain dignity of bearing. He wants to be a tobacco buyer. Perhaps that is why he studies mathematics diligently.

J. WILTON MANN

"LUCKY"

Heroes are made not born.

Hope Valley Hi-Y Club 3, President 3; Boxing 4.

Although Wilton only recently came to us from Hope Valley, he quickly found a place with us. Realizing his ability as a boxer, we made him our coach. We are sure that he will meet the formidable foes of life in the same way that he meets his ring opponents, and with the same success.

LUCILLE MARTIN

"POSSUM"

Misfortune's to have lived not knowing thee.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

We have not yet learned how Lucille obtained her nick-name, but we feel sure that there must be some connection between it and the ready wit which makes her such a pleasant companion. Although she may be "playing possum" at times, she has many serious thoughts that add greatly to her character.

VIOLA BEATRICE MARTIN

An ease of heart her every look conveyed.

Viola is noted around the school for her easy-going, optimistic nature. Taking things as they come, she modestly and unassumingly views life. We are wishing her success.

GERALDINE FARRAR MATTHEWS

"JERRY"

When it was to be done, she did it.

O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4; French Club 4; Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 4, Secretary 3; Needlework Guild 4.

"Jerry" is never found unprepared for her day's recitations, for she is indeed one of our most brilliant students. Who would venture to say just how famous she will become?

GEORGE KIRBY MATTHIS

"HIENIE"

Honest men fear neither the light nor the dark.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 3, Vice-President 3; Hi-Y Club 2, 3; Monogram Club 3, 4; Student Council 4; Vice-President of Home Room 3, President 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Tennis 2; Wrestling 2; Boxing 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4.

George is another of our athletic heroes whose popularity is unsurpassed. More than once has he been elected president, and each time has he shown genuine ability coupled with a well-developed sense of humor.

KATHLEEN MCKAY MAULTSBY

"KAT"

Quiet persons are welcomed everywhere.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; May Day Festival 2; Stunt Cast 2.

"Kat," as she is sometimes called, is a rather quiet girl who possesses an unusual amount of practical knowledge. She is most interested in flowers and hopes some day to become a horticulturist.

MERLE FERRELL MCKINNEY

"MACKY"

Patient waiters are no losers.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Art Club 3, 4.

When D. H. S. loses Merle this year, she will lose one of her most congenial students. Her classmates are sure that she will be the best private secretary a lawyer could boast of having.

RUTH LEE MCLEAN

"POLLY"

Never do things by halves.

Art Club 2, 3; O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3; Needlework Guild 3, 4.

"Polly" is just a "good-all-round studious girl," always friendly, kind, and ready to respond to everything. She will probably do great things with the beauty parlor which she intends to own.

CAMILLE MARIE MICKELSON

One good head is better than a hundred strong arms.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Although Marie is very small, she always has a big smile for everybody. She is one of our prettiest girls and excels in grace and ease. The man who gets her for his secretary will be very lucky.

LATHROP EDWIN MILLER

"EDDIE"

Practice makes the musician.

Orchestra 2, 3, 4; Band 2, 3, 4; Science Club 2, 3.

"Eddie," who is Lathrop to most of us, is really an all-round good fellow. If he promises to do something, one may rest assured that he will do it. His pleasant disposition enables him to make friends readily. He is very fond of music, and in music we are sure he will succeed.

MARY FRANCES MILLS

"FRANCES"

*True as the needle to the pole
Or as the dial to the sun.*

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Chaplain 4; Mixed Chorus 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Stunt Cast 2; May Day 2; Commercial Club 4; Senior Play 4.

Vivacious, friendly, talkative, dramatic, musical—yes, Frances possesses all of these qualities. Perhaps her greatest attribute is her artistic ability. Her mind has only to give the order and her hands will produce the most pleasing melodies.

WILLIE LEE MIZE

Take things as you find them.

Messenger 3, 4; Co-business manager 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Track 2; Boxing 3, 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4.

One at a time girls! Don't crowd. You were right the first time—it's Willie, the pugilist. He has a mania for mathematics and the weaker sex. He just discovered a few days ago that every other page in his math book is missing. Even Einstein couldn't answer his mathematical queries.

JOHN P. MOORE

"JACK"

He'll find a way.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

"Jack's" silence belies his knowledge. He is a great thinker. Reading is his favorite hobby and, he says, his favorite activity is studying. We really think he has some secret ambition. We conclude, therefore, that he spends a great deal of time acquiring knowledge so that he can reach out and grasp opportunity when it knocks at his door. We can readily say that he has the ability to do it.

JAMES EDWARD NAPIER

"NAPY"

But I am as constant as the Northern star.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Phy-Chem Club 4; Hi-Y Club 4; Vice-President 4; Student Council 3; Home Room Treasurer 3; Messenger Staff 4; Commercial Club 4.

"Napy" is one of the few boys who applies himself diligently and, consequently, makes a high average on all of his subjects. He takes a special interest in mathematics and science. No doubt, this is to aid him in his career of aeronautical engineering. It will be hard to keep down a fellow with such a high ambition.

WALLACE LEE NAPIER

"NAP"

He's as good as the best of them.

Wallace is one of the most likable sons of D. H. S. He has always reached lofty heights in our opinions, but, not satisfied with that, he wants to ascend to even higher altitudes in an aeroplane. There is a great demand for aviators of fearless perseverance. That's why we place all our bets on "Nap."

RICHARD FRANCIS NEWCOMB
"DICK"

He is handsome that handsome doth.

Kiwan Club 2; Blackwell Literary Society 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

This dark-haired, handsome lad seems to see through his future. Laughter and smiles keep everyone around him happy and content. Civil engineering is calling, "Never worry Dick."

MARY TOMS NEWSOM
"TOM"

Few things are impossible to diligence and skill.

Hockey Team 2; Home Room President 2; Cheer Leader 3, 4; Treasurer Junior Class 3; Needlework Guild 2, 3, 4, Director 3, President 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 2, 3, Editor-in-chief 4; French Club 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Senior Play Cast 4.

Here is our leader. She leads in scholarship; she leads in activities; she leads in recreation. Her talents even extend into the realms of art and music. Versatile, capable Tom!

CLEO ALLEN O'NEAL
"CLE"

Work while you work, and play while you play.

Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

We all know Cleo for her pleasant disposition and for the fine efforts that she displays in her work. These characteristics, coupled with her desire to become a novelist, will some day make us proud of her.

MARGARET ORMOND
"MUFFINS"

A friend in need is a friend indeed.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 2, 3, 4, Feature Editor 4; Home Room Treasurer 3, President 3, Secretary 4; Dramatic Club 4, Secretary 4; Student Council 3.

A friendly disposition, a pleasing personality, and a sunny smile are characteristics of Margaret. Her charm and poise, combined with her forceful, determined character, will take her far toward her ultimate goal—a child specialist.

CAROLINA ELIZABETH PAGE
"LIB"

Her modesty conceals a thousand charms.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4; Athletic Association 4.

Elizabeth is a most conscientious person, putting her very best into everything she undertakes. She is another of our members who wishes to enter the business world—we know she'll make us proud of her.

TAYLOR HILL PASCHALL
"HILL"

*Let us then be what we are
And speak what we think.*

Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Commercial Club 4; Commercial Club Cabinet 4; Messenger 2, 3, 4, Co-business Manager 4; Tennis Team 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Through his excellent management of this year's annual, Hill has shown us that he is going to realize his ambition to become a competent business man. He has been a leader; he will continue to be a leader.

GEORGE B. PATRICK
 "PAT"

Nothing is fine but what is fit.

Blackwell Literary Society 4; Commercial Club 4; Wrestling 3, 4.

George, as you may know, is the little student with the big ideas. His ambition is to become an engineer. We bet that "Pat" will be a success in this field because he certainly knows how to engineer his studies. Here's to "Pat," the wrestler!

ANNA ELIZABETH PAYLOR
 "LIB"

Is she not modest?

Does she not prefer to be, rather than to seem?

O. Henry Literary Society 4.

Elizabeth, a new student in D. H. S. this year, has been very reserved. She is most attentive during class, and concentrates deeply on her studies. "Lib" leaves high school with a strictly business-like attitude. She expects to take up work at the Woman's College of U. N. C.

PEDER MALVIN PEDERSEN
 "PETE"

Men of few words are the best men.

Phy-Chem Club 4, President 4; Carr Literary Society 3, 4, Secretary 4.

If you want a good, steady, unselfish, unsophisticated partner in anything, "Pete" is the boy for you. A hard worker, and at times even brilliant, he will surely gain possession of the manager's office that he has his eye on now.

GEORGE JUNIOR POE

To be, not to seem.

Band 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 3, 4; Boys Chorus 4; Hi-Y 3, 4, Secretary 4; Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

This boy can do most anything with a trumpet but make it eat out of his hand. He keeps a smile on his face that would make a 'possum duck his head in shame. He likes French (will wonders ever cease?). Wants to be a big business man. He'll do it!

MARVIN HOYLE POPE
 "BUG"

Man is man, and master of his fate.

Art Club 3, 4; Boxing 4; French Contest 4.

Make way for another excellent cartoonist from Durham High School. "Bug" is eager to make use of his ability in this line, and his fellow classmates feel sure of his success.

NORMAN LESLIE POPE
 "FISHMOUTH"

Zeal is like fire.

Football 3, 4; Baseball 3, 4; Basketball 2, 4, Captain 4; Monogram Club 2, 3, 4, President 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Home Room Vice-President 2; Cafeteria 4; Commercial Club 3, 4.

"Fishmouth" is one of those exceptional athletes, commonly called "Three-letter-men," who accomplished many things and still does not let his great ability turn his head. On the gridiron, as well as on the diamond, he is a wizard and has thrilled scores of onlookers by his star performances. Norman will leave some fine friends behind when he graces some college with his wonderful athletic ability.

MARION ELIZABETH PORTER

The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4.

Although Marion came to us late in the year, she has made a most favorable and lasting impression upon the school. Who in the class does not admire her genial ways and her unselfish spirit? What the world needs today is more people just like Marion.

JOE READE POWELL

"J. READE"

Those who make the best of their time have none to spare.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Chaplain 2, Secretary 3, President 4, Marshal 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3; Phy-Chem Society 4; Secretary 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Home Room Vice-President 2, Secretary 4; Messenger 2, 3, 4, Business Staff 2, Literary Staff 3, 4.

"Personality-plus" is a good definition of Joe Reade's character. Both studious and good-looking, he has acquired a host of friends. He is a real asset to the school.

TRAVERS DANIELS PUTNAM, JR.

Who knows most, says least.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 3, 4; Phy-Chem Club 4.

Travers is the diligent, quiet type so necessary to the school routine. Courteous and gentlemanly, he has won the admiration of many students and teachers. Aeronautical engineering particularly appeals to him.

BERTHA REGAN

"BERT"

Pursues the even tenor of her way.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 4, Commercial Club Cabinet 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Well, men, you've been complaining about talkative women. Here's one who doesn't say much, but can she look fathoms with those big gray eyes? It will be difficult to find another of these rare girls.

ELLIOT BUEFORT REYNOLDS

'Tis the mind that makes the body rich.

Hi-Y 2; Boy Scouts 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Nature Study Club 3; Phy-Chem 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

A true gentleman and a never-to-be forgotten friend is Elliot. While most of Durham High's young swains are out on personal business, this modest person is continually improving his mind in order that he may be fully equipped when he ventures forth in his life's work.

RUTH HELEN RIDDICK

"NERTS"

Little in stature, but big in heart.

Commercial Club 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Here is a dignified and confiding little senior of '34, who never seems too busy to help others. She has established a lifelong reputation of being a typical high school girl.

DAVID D. RIDDLE, JR.

"BRO"

Silence conceals a wealth of fine thought.

Current Events Club 2.

Like many of the seniors from the Coöp Class, David has chosen engineering as his vocation. If "silence bespeaks power," we may hope to see this big, silent "Romeo" building "Riddle Bridges" all over the country.

MILDRED RUTH RIGSBEE

"PIGGY"

It is said that gifts persuade even the gods.

Glee Club 3.

She sat among the athletes. Mildred picked the seat herself, so we don't think she'll go wrong in her choice of being an instructor of Physical Education. We shall stand by and see our newcomer progress until she reaches her goal.

CLIFTON WALLER ROBERTS, JR.

"PETE"

Laughter cheers the hearts of others.

Clifton is the type of young man who enjoys life to the utmost. Nothing worries him, nor does any subject trouble his peaceful mind. He's "a man what takes his time," and apparently does not care whether the world approves or disapproves of his view of life. His attitude of indifference appeals to everyone and has attracted many lifelong friends—teachers, as well as students.

MARTHA LOUISE ROGERS

Small in stature, but large in brains.

Student Council 2; Home Room Vice-President 2, Monitor 4; O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3; President 4; Dramatic Club 3; Secretary 3; Needlework Guild 3; Athletic Association 2; Hi-Rocket 4.

Truly a "Bitty" girl is Martha, and truly is she popular with all the students. As she has a liking for Home Economics, we have a feeling that she will make some lucky fellow not only a most attractive little wife but also a most efficient one.

ELEANOR TOBA RUBEN

"EL"

Everyone is the son of his own works.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3; Art Club 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Messenger Staff 4; Stunt Cast 2.

"El's" artistic and dramatic ability will place her on the highway to fame. By her quiet ways and her pleasing personality she has won her way to our hearts. Although "El" says her ambition is never to get married, we are sure that, some day, a lucky man will claim her.

ANNIE BARNES SATTERWHITE

"BARNIE"

The sweetest garland to the sweetest maiden.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Home Room Treasurer 2, Secretary 3, President 3; Cheer Leader 4; Dramatic Club 4, Treasurer 4.

As a cheer-leader, "Barnie" has certainly done her part to help the teams. Likewise, always looking for the better side, she cheers us when we are in our most dejected moods. Who could not be cheerful when around such a charming piece of femininity?

DAVID H. SATTERWHITE

Our ideals are our better selves.

Stage Committee 4.

The fact that David is tall, dark, and handsome cannot be held against him, since he is able to hold at bay his many ardent admirers (feminine gender). He proved his worth during the production of the Coroso Play as a valuable stage man. Perhaps on the stage of life he will play an even greater part.

GERTRUDE PEARL SAWILOWSKY

"GERTIE"

There is none like her, though there are many imitations.

Athletic Association 4; Hi-Rocket 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2; Athene Literary Society 3, 4; French Club 3, 4; Needlework Guild 4; Home Room Vice-President 2, Secretary 3.

"Gertie" is one of those extremely industrious people who always makes a success of everything she undertakes. She is particularly noted around D. H. S. for her scholarship and stylish ensembles. When better clothes are worn, "Gertie" will wear them.

VIOLET ELAIN SCOTT

A beautiful face is a silent recommendation.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 4; Messenger Staff 4.

Violet holds the enviable position of being one of the prettiest girls in the Senior High School. Under any circumstances she is a girl to be admired. Her enthusiasm, willingness, and capability are unbounded.

NANCY RENN SEEMAN

The mildest manner with the bravest mind.

Messenger Staff 3, 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Secretary 4; Needlework Guild 2, 3, 4, Secretary 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Maybe she's just trying to be different when she says she likes Math; anyway she "wears it out." Math we go over that again! She had rather dance than eat, and does she like to eat? Her greatest ambition is to get through college—and after that—oh well, if you ask us, she won't have to worry!

DANIEL OWEN SHACKELFORD

"DAN"

Virtue brings honor.

Dramatic Club 4; Blackwell Literary Society 2; Carmichael 3, 4; Ki-wan 2; Hi-Rocket 2, 4; Monogram Club 3, 4; Manager of Football Team 3; Commercial Club 4; Secretary Home Room 2.

"Dan" has planned to be a successful business man when he has grown a little older. He has shown both business and executive ability as manager of the football team. His strong physique and his perseverance will carry him far.

FRED N. SILVER

Happy is he that serveth the happy.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 4.

Fred is one of the most energetic boys in the senior class. He possesses the commendable trait of frankness; in other words, he says what he thinks, and usually it's worth one's time to listen.

DAVID JUDSON SMITH

"SMITTIE"

Short of stature he was, but strongly built and athletic.

Student Council 3; Athletic Association 3, 4; Carmichael Literary Society 3, 4; Football 3, 4; Basketball 3; Hi-Rocket 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 4.

"Reliable Smittie" is always willing and eager to perform any task set before him. May he prove himself as efficient at Davidson College as he has at Durham High. Football, basketball, Hi-Rocket—"Smittie" has shown himself as an "all-round good fellow."

DOROTHY MAE SMITH

"DOT"

Her duties well performed.

Her days well spent.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 3; O. Henry Literary Society 4; Class Treasurer 2; Commercial Club 3, 4; Cabinet 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Basketball 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Dorothy is a favorite among us. She is a girl whose sunny face will come up every time 1934 is mentioned. She has many times been "the life of the party."

LENWOOD P. SMITH

"LEN"

He knows most who speaks least.

Blackwell Literary Society 3, 4.

"Len" came to us from Spartanburg, S. C., and quickly proved their loss to be our gain. Naturally of a quiet and reserved manner, he seems to take things just as they come. But when one penetrates into his inward nature, one finds there a wonderfully likeable disposition and all the qualities of a true friend.

MARY RUTH SMITH

"RUFUS"

There is no enemy.

Commercial Club 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Library Council 4; Needlework Guild 4; Secretary Home Room 4.

Although Ruth doesn't make much noise, those who know her know that "Once a friend, always a friend" is her motto. Her hobby is collecting newspaper clippings. We feel sure that she will make a success in anything she undertakes.

NANCY MARIE SMITH

If we are not sincere, we are nothing.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Messenger Staff 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Mixed Chorus 4; Secretary Home Room 3, 4.

Nancy possesses a combination of rare qualities. She is quiet, serious, and energetic, as well as musical and pretty. Her unassuming manner, perfect poise, and natural dignity guarantee her a successful berth in the musical world.

LOULA McDONALD SOUTHGATE

"LULU"

Hit or miss, luck is all.

Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4; Readers Club 4; Dramatic Club 3; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 3, Vice-President 4; Needlework Guild 2, 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 3, Vice-President 4; Stunt Cast 2; May Day 2; Class Day 3; Senior Play Cast 4.

This young mortal started flirting at the age of two, and hasn't even slowed down for the curves since. As long as she is playing, reading, and having a good time, she is at peace with the world. One wink from "Lulu" and the males fall for her like rice at a wedding. She thinks a position as an airline hostess would be the "nertz." Quelle femme!

ARCHIBALD CARR STALLINGS, JR.

"ARCHIE"

When you see a jester, a joke is not far off.

Athletic Association 3; Art Club 3, 4; Football 4; Commercial Club 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4.

"Archie" is one of our ambitious young shicks whose greatest desire is to induce the world to laugh off the depression in cartoons. His genial personality and carefree attitude have gained for him a host of friends.

HELON RUTH STALLINGS

"HALF-PINT"

Little chips light great fires.

Commercial Club 2, 3; Mixed Chorus 2, 3, 4; Girls Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 4; Needlework Guild 4.

This wee lassie, whose hobby is music, is "choked" full of charms. We wonder if she isn't already so deep in the sea of romance that she will never reach her goal in the commercial field. Whatever career Helon chooses, her gentle manners and lovable ways will bring her success.

HENRY HARROLL STALLINGS

"CASEY"

Frugal and industrious.

Art Club 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 3, Secretary 4; Walter Hines Page Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Phy-Chem Club 4; Dramatic Club 4; Stage 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

Efficient, consistent, and hardworking in his own quiet determined way, Harroll has been most successful in his dramatic and stage work. He aspires to achieve something of benefit to mankind. His determination and ability assure him of undoubted success.

FOYE RUTH STEPHENS

"PEE-WEE"

She comes and goes, but always she is welcome.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 3; Needlework Guild 4; Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball Team 4; Messenger Staff 4; Home Room Treasurer 2; Class Basketball Team 2, 3, 4; Class Volley Ball Team 3, 4; Stunt Cast 2.

This little brunette has proved herself invaluable to the school. Because of her dependability and willing disposition, we are certain that she will gain whatever goal to which she aspires.

KERNEY C. STONE, JR.

"K. C."

Hope is worth any money.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

"K. C." is one of those people without whom the world could not move in its appointed course. He has a dynamic personality and a real ability to accomplish a given amount of work, as well as a capacity for understanding those with whom he comes in contact.

MERLE KAY STONE

The best work in the world is done on the quiet.

Civics Club 2, 3, 4, President 4; Hi-Y Club 2, 3; Messenger Staff 4.

Merle is an amiable chap with a pleasing appearance. He is always alert and constantly thinking of preparing himself for the future. Such an early beginning cannot but have the best of results. He will end at the top!

FRANCES IRENE SUGG

One never loseth by doing good turns.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 3, 4, Needlework Guild 4.

How Frances can continue her dancing and bridge-playing while relieving the sick is hard to say. But, knowing her as we do, we feel sure that she will be a real credit to the nursing profession.

MARY ELIZABETH SWAIN

"MARY KIO"

Checked for silence, but never taxed for speech.

Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Girls' Club 2, Commercial Club 2, Cafeteria 4.

Who cares if she talks most of the time? Usually her remarks are either amusing or complimentary. Someone might say that "her tongue was glad when she was asleep," but every one else is eager to hear what Mary Elizabeth has to say.

VANCE LEON SYKES

"DAZZY"

Good beginnings make good endings.

Carmichael Literary Society, Nature Study Club 3, Baseball 2, 3, Tennis 3.

Vance's hobby is "printing." Perhaps he is only practicing so that he can decorate baseballs with a "fancy" autograph when he becomes a big league baseball player; for Vance promises to be a second Babe Ruth, and aspires to become one.

FRANCIS SPROTT TAYLOR

Set good against evil.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Chaplain 3, Hi-Y Club 3, Tennis Club 3, Commercial Club 3, Phy-Chem Club 4.

Francis' smile and his constant good humor have brightened dull days for many members of the senior class. His varied interests have made him a real asset to the several organizations of which he has been a member.

ROBERT FRED THORNE, JR.

"BOB"

He who has talent has much.

Page Literary Society 4, Boys Glee Club 4, Mixed Chorus 4.

The musical talent of Durham was boosted a thousand per cent when Bob came to play in a popular local orchestra. He sings, plays, and writes music—what more would one desire of a man? However, he made a reputation not only as a musician, but also as a wooer of man's better half.

MYRTLE RUTH TURNER

"LIGHTNING"

*To make this world a friendly place,
One must show a friendly face.*

O. Henry Literary Society 3, 4, Athletic Association 4.

Myrtle usually gets where she is going and wastes not a minute about it. That's the reason she's so fittingly called "Lightning." Her cheerfulness lights up many a gloomy day. The school will hate to lose her.

THEODORE TRUE TYREN

"TED"

To aim is not enough, we must hit.

Hi-Y 2; Blackwell Literary Society 4; Carr Society 3; Phy-Chem 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Ted has set his goal high. If he is as successful at building bridges and skyscrapers as he is at fooling Miss Herr, he will be acclaimed the greatest genius of all time.

A. BRUCE UMSTEAD

"UMP"

Give a footing and I will find elbow-room.

Student Council 2, 4; Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3; President 4; Football Team 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2.

Our slow but sure-driving fullback is "Ump" Umstead. He made a name for himself on the gridiron, just as he has made a favorable imprint on his fellow students. He'll make that much desired million yet. We will stand by to see it.

FRANCES LOUISE UNDERWOOD

Great modesty hides great merit.

Frances is a steady dependable soul who has proved to the more carefree what may be accomplished by faithful endeavor. Faithfully and unassumingly, she goes about her work never interfering with others. The host of friends she leaves behind bespeaks her popularity.

EMILY ELIZABETH UZZELLE

"UZZELLE"

A little body doth often harbor a great soul.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 3, 4; Readers Club 4; Treasurer 4; Hockey Team 2, 3; Volley Ball 4; Needlework Guild 2, 3, 4.

Dancing may well be the petite "Uzzelle's" hobby, for she is most adept at this social grace. However, this is not her only accomplishment, for she is known by each of her classmates as an entertaining, lovable, and proficient young lady.

EDNA EARLE WALTERS

"EDDIE"

Laugh and groce fat.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3; Basketball 2, 3; Tennis 3; Volley Ball 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

A jolly, good-natured girl is "Eddie." She laughs at her troubles and sings her blues away. We hope she keeps this up, for it is a good beginning for a successful career as a nurse.

ELEANOR HOWARD WALTERS

The inner side of every cloud is ever bright and shining.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Basketball 4.

Brightness, alertness, and cheerfulness are all attributes of Eleanor Walters. She will certainly be heard of later in connection with her position as secretary, maybe to the President, who knows?

LOUISE GELZER WANNAMAHER

"WEEZIE"

*A comrade lithe and full of glee,
Who dares to laugh out loud and free.*

Home Room President 4; Class Secretary 4; Art Club 4; Commercial Club 4; Messenger Staff 4; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 4.

"Weezie" is certainly an "All-American Girl." Coming from way down south to enter Durham High, she quickly became one of the school's most able leaders. Her personality and charm are exceptional and go far toward making her the attractive person that she is.

ELINOR SAXON WARREN

She hath wit and talent, added to it wisdom and modesty.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 2; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Needlework Guild 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 2; Coroso Play 4.

Lovable and altogether charming, Elinor has stolen the hearts of many in her merry dance through High School. She never grumbles, never worries, never lets herself be "blue." It is good to have associated with her.

E. GORDON WARREN

"P. G."

Talk happiness; the world is sad enough without your woes.

Blackwell Literary Society 2; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 2; Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Marshal 4.

A man whose humor is only exceeded by the size of his—appetite. If an optimistic outlook on life is essential to success, Gordon is already half-way up the ladder.

MELCEINA REID WATSON

Kindness begets kindness.

Needlework Guild 4; Lila Markham Literary Society 4.

Melceina is a very quiet, unselfish girl, who is the last person in the world to say a word in her own behalf. But her deeds have spoken so much louder than her words that she has come to be realized as one of 1934's best members.

GERTRUDE WINSTON WEBB

"GERT"

Let's talk, my friends.

Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Hi-Rocket 4; Readers Club 4; Needlework Guild 2, 4.

"Cherrie Blonde," with her titian hair and roguish eyes, and her face shining with friendship for one and all, rushes through life hitting the high spots. She is not a laggard, and as a lawyer she'll be hard to beat.

MIRIAM ELIZABETH WECKESSER

Knowledge is power.

Hi-Rocket 2, 3, 4; News Editor 4; O. Henry Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3; Secretary 4; Student Council 2, 4; French Club 3; Commercial Club 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Miriam is a girl whom everyone likes to have around. She's jolly, she's sympathetic, she's tactful, she's literary, she's accommodating—she's everything one can wish.

CALVIN REX WELSH

Respect a man, he will do the more.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Vice-President 2, Treasurer 2; Student Council 3; Commercial Club 3; Wrestling 4.

Rex is a hard worker and a true friend. All of his interest is centered around one thing—a speed boat. With his wonderful personality, quick wit, and ability, no one could predict anything but success for our star grappler.

HUGH EDWARD WHITE, JR.

“HI-Y”

He that speaks wittily is much sought after.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 3, President 4; Phy-Chem Club 4, President 4; Messenger Staff 2, 3, 4, Art Staff 2, Humor Editor 3, Art Editor 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Art Club 2; Student Council 2, 4; Home Room Vice-President 2; Class President 2, Class Treasurer 3, Class President 4; Stunt Cast 3; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4.

Hugh is one of the most versatile students of our dear old alma mater. He is exceptionally well qualified for his many responsibilities; he handles each separate item just as if it were the only one. Many a noble enterprise has fallen before the alert mind of this most interesting person.

MARGARET WALKER WHITE

“MARG”

Leave a welcome behind you.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Commercial Club 4; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 2, 3; Music Club 2; Senior Play Cast 4.

Immediately upon entering High School, Margaret's winning ways won the hearts of many and started for her a long reign of popularity. She has always been a diligent student and ranks high in her studies.

HERBERT PRESTON WHITFIELD

“WHIT”

Punctuality is the soul of business.

Herbert—the boy of chewing-gum, mints, and life-savers! And the best part of it is, he hands out with his favors big slices of a very fine personality. Some worthwhile firm will profit by having him at its head.

HUGH EDWIN WHITTED, JR.

Try and trust will move mountains.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Phy-Chem 2, 4; Home Room President 2; Messenger Staff 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Track 2.

Hugh is another of these business-like people who are never idle. He spends only half his day in school, and perhaps gets as much accomplished in those few short hours as the average boy or girl does in a day. He is a regular “jack of all trades” and will always succeed in whatever he undertakes.

CLAUDE BROOKE WIDGERY

Genius lights the way.

Page Literary Society 4; Phy-Chem Society 4, Secretary 4, Vice-President 4.

Claude Widgery, our English boy, is quiet and reserved, but what a brain he has! It looks as though a second Einstein were about to graduate from the Durham High School.

RHODA WIDGERY

Enthusiasm begets enthusiasm.

French Club 3, 4; Secretary 4; Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3; President 4; Student Council 3, 4; Needlework Guild 3, 4; Girls' Varsity Basketball Team 2, 3, 4; Girls' Varsity Volley Ball Team 3, 4; Girls' Track 3; Tennis 3, 4.

Rhoda is unusually enthusiastic. She works while she works; and when time comes for playing, she can certainly play! Rhoda's friendly disposition and her ready sympathy have won many friends for her. Our class would not be complete without her.

DOROTHY EARLE WILKERSON

"DOT"

Truth beareth away the victory.

Hi-Rocket Staff 2, 3, 4; Club Editor 4; Athena Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3; French Club 2, 3, 4; Activity Stunt Cast 2; Needlework Guild 4; Athletic Association 2, 3.

Looks are deceiving! One would never imagine that gay, entertaining Dot is really one of our most studious and most brilliant girls. Nor would one think that she intends to use her ability in writing, but knowing that she does, we feel sure that Dot will become one of the most successful novelists of "to-morrow."

WILLIAM ANDREW WILKERSON

"ANDY"

Few things are impossible to diligence and skill.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Home Room Treasurer 4.

Andy, sometimes known as "Red," is a true high school product, and will certainly become a great Presbyterian minister. His way of attacking his school work and his untiring efforts to do all well, guarantee his success.

HAZEL CHRISTINE WILKINS

Here's to a girl who's good, but not too good, for the good die young.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4.

Those flashing black eyes! What a pleasant surprise for the fortunate man who has Hazel as his secretary! She has a special place in the hearts of all those with whom she comes in contact both in and out of school.

HAROLD OLIVER WILKINSON

"OBE"

The first article a young trader offers for sale is honesty.

Current Events Club 2; Coöp Class 2, 3, 4; Science Club 2.

Although rather reserved in nature, Oliver possesses those finer characteristics which lead toward a life rich with the elements that endure. What more noble ambition could any man have than the desire to earn an honest living, regardless of the vocation? What better form of diversion from worldly cares than music—the language of the soul?

FREDERICK JAMES WILLIAMS, JR.

"FRED"

A jolly, good fellow in every way.

Carmichael Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Home Room President 2, Treasurer 2, 3.

A carefree attitude, a genial personality, and a keen sense of faithfulness are the distinct elements that distinguish Fred from the other members of our senior class. He carries a bit of humor with him at all times, and, by his carefree attitude, never fails to encourage some poor soul who is down on his studies.

PHIL ROBERT WILLIAMSON

"RED"

Good men are a public good.

Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4.

In the years which Phil has been in Durham High, he has proved that hard work overcomes any obstacle that may come in one's path. "Red" is a friend worth having. We are sure his ambition to establish a business firm will be realized.

EARL WAY WILSON

"BADEYE"

Good mind, good find.

Blackwell Literary Society 3, 4, Chairman Executive Committee 4; French Club 3, 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4.

Earl is one of Durham High's outstanding students—"a scholar, a ripe, a good one." In his High School career he has "argued high" and so "the wonder grew, that one small head could carry all he knew."

ANNIE LA RUE HUDSON WINTERS

Always ready and full of pep.

Athena Literary Society 3, 4; Commercial Club 4, Cabinet 4; Varsity Basketball Team 3; Varsity Volley Ball Team 4.

Coming to us from East Durham, Annie La Rue soon proved herself to be a great athlete. She is especially fond of basketball, making it her favorite pastime. May she always keep up her gay, happy-go-lucky disposition which has been so much in evidence around D. H. S.

LYDIA ANNIS WOODS

"PETE"

She that is born handsome, is born married.

Comercial Club 4; Needlework Guild 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 4; Athletic Association 4.

"Pete" is one of those girls who refuses to reveal her ambition. You can't fool us, "Pete"! You've the old-fashioned girl's career in mind. Whatever it is, may you continue to be as successful as you have been in your high school days.

MARY ELIZABETH WOODS

It is a worthier thing to deserve honor than to possess it.

Music Club 2, 3; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 2, 3; Athena Literary Society 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 3.

Mary Elizabeth is the kind of girl you don't hear much about in your Freshman year and wonder in your Senior year why you didn't. The solution is easy—she was busy studying, making an enviable record for herself and D. H. S.

MARIE HALL WRIGHT

Justice is simple, truth is easy.

Commercial Club 2, 3, 4; Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society 3, 4.

She has a head to contrive, a tongue to persuade, and a hand to execute any piece of work. Such is Marie; in short, a girl too fine to waste on any save a domestic career.

GEORGE LEWIS YOUNG

"DINKY"

His speech is burning fire.

Athletic Association 2, 3, 4; Blackwell Literary Society 2, 3, 4, Secretary 2, Chairman Executive Committee 3, Vice-President 4; Aycock Debating Team 3, 4; Messenger Staff 3, 4, Co-Literary Editor 4; American Legion Oratorical Contest 3; Woman's Club Declamation Contest 3; Commercial Club 4, Cabinet 4; Home Room Secretary 2, Vice-President 3, President 4; Student Council 4.

Y-o-u-n-g spells lawyer in any man's language. He's short and full of the talks (as Herr deBruyne so aptly puts it). This guy has been on nearly everything but the girls' basketball team. And with that broad smile and curly hair—we could rave on, but we won't. He'll find success anywhere.

ROBERT H. YOUNG

"BOB"

Silence is golden.

Carr Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Art Club 4.

During the years that we have known Bob, we have found out little about him because of his quiet manner and nature. We think the reason for his reticence must be some secret ambition which he cherishes. A quiet thinker is better than a loud talker.

THELMA SHEILA ZUCKERMAN

It is always time to do good.

Readers Club 4; Hi-Rocket Staff 4; Cornelia Spencer Literary Society 2, 3; Athena Literary Society 4; Needlework Guild 4.

Happy, dignified, standing up for principle, fun-loving Thelma! Always eager to help, she does the little things others leave undone, and the big things others know not how to do.

A Chapter From Bleys' Diary

(Class History)

THE LIGHTS flare up in Arthur's banquet hall, the doors swing open, and the noble and witty knights troop in for the final conclave before the last perilous foray. Reclining on couches, at once we begin to recall the glorious events of former years during which the Table Round has gained honor and reverence throughout the wide world.

This marvelous adventure had its beginning during the month of September in the Year of Our Lord nineteen hundred thirty-one when we were accepted as Pages into the Arthurian realm. Under the leadership of Hugh, the White Knight, we strove exceedingly hard to comply in every way possible with the wishes of our more distinguished senior officers, and accordingly participated in every joust and tourney.

After proving ourselves faithful Pages, we were promoted to the rank of Squires, the forerunners of the great and distinguished Knights. During our year of intense and active service we widened our field of knowledge and undertook a more extensive campaign. We met and overcame numerous foes, and by our deeds of valor, helped in the great task of making the Order exceedingly renowned. With chivalrous intent we honored our highly respected seniors, who were departing on the road to higher glories, with a dinner dance.

And then—the most coveted rank of all—a Knight! We accepted this title with much pride and dignity, and as leaders for our noble class chose as president, Hugh White; vice-president, Rhoda Widgery; secretary, Louise Wannamaker; and treasurer, Victor Bowling.

In order to start the year off with a "bang," we decided to give our Knights a chance to show their prowess in tourneys, and deeds of arms. The first tournament to be held was sponsored by the football team which fought its way valiantly to the State Championship. The most formidable Knights in these contests were Romeo Germino, the Launcelot of the Domain, Elmore Hackney, Bill Carr, Kimball Griffin, Bruce Umstead, David Smith, La Rue Cribbs, Tom Dixon, Willie Mize, Norman Pope, Hubert Browning, George Matthis, and Rupert Bryan. Bernard Katz, a Squire and an all-state selection, stood out as a bulwark in the line. With the State Championship in football safely tucked away, all eyes were turned to the basketball court where Norman Pope, Elmore Hackney, Bill King, Nat Hunter, Hubert Browning, and Vance Sykes aided by the stellar Squires Edmund Swindell and James Thomas gained more recognition for the Table Round by advancing to the finals in the South Atlantic Tournament. The boxing team was well represented by their student-coach, Wilton Mann, who fought his way to an undisputed state championship. Other representatives in this game of skill and stamina were: George Matthis, Willie Mize, Edwin Johnson, and Hoyle Pope. The wrestling team which won second place in the tournament was well represented in the persons of Kimball Griffin, Charlie Jones, James Love, and Romeo Germino. In track we were once more attracted by the dust of former gridsters, Bill Carr, Elmore Hackney, George Matthis, Tom Dixon, Hubert Browning, and Bruce Umstead. The baseball team would have been in a terrible predicament had it not been for such stars as Nat Hunter, Vance Sykes, Wilton Mann, Norman Pope, Joffre Ray, and many of the up-and-coming Squires.

Even though the boys usually held the athletic spotlight, the girls still did their bit of shining. The individual girl athletes were Rhoda Widgery, Virginia Hoffler, Annie Hudson Winters, and Frances Briggs, a Squire.

Following the athletic tourneys, interest was turned toward the publication of the annual manuscript of our noble experiments, the inside story of this exceptional kingdom. The staff consisted of Bill Brogden, Editor-in-Chief; Annie Whitty Daniel and George Young, Co-Literary Editors; Hugh White, Art Editor; and Willie Mize and Hill Paschall, Co-Business Managers.

With the coming of spring, debating seemed to be the most important topic of discussion, and a team was selected to take part in the Aycock Triangular Debate. The affirmative orators were Frances Bond and Fred Rippey (a Squire), while the negative speakers were George Young and Landon Corbin.

Those Knights who excelled not only in play but also in work by making the honor roll were: Frances Bond, Annie Whitty Daniel, Mary Toms Newsom, Geraldine Matthews, Elizabeth Hooker, Gertrude Sawilowsky, Rhoda Widgery, Dorothy Wilkerson, Claude Widgery, Kathleen Gulley, and Earl Wilson. Through these fine scholars the rating of the kingdom increased exceedingly.

As the numerous pastimes were being put into the spotlight, the music clubs, not to be surpassed, produced quite a few stars of tomorrow. Among the Knights who distinguished themselves in the musical field were Grace Carrington, Billy Bagwell, Bennett Edwards, Howard Basile, Lathrop Miller, Arthur Lindsay, Erwin Peed, and Katherine Mangum (a Squire).

So far the scene seemed perfect except for one important thing, a proper background or setting. To afford beautiful and artistic surroundings, Hugh White, Eleanor Reuben, Louise Wannamaker, and Margaret Bugg sketched their way to glory.

However, no realm is complete unless there is a satisfactory means of communication. The Hi-Rocket, the semi-monthly school publication, supplied this need with Mary Toms Newsom, Editor-in-Chief; Landon Corbin and Miriam Weckesser, News Editors; Frances Bond, Literary Editor; and James Cousins, Business Manager, assisted by Bill Carr and Bill Blackley.

In an effort to gather the senior class en masse, for fine entertainment, a senior play: namely, "Little Miss Fortune," was given by the following students: Margaret White, Julian Lentz, Mary Frances Mills, Arthur Knight, Victor Bowling, Elizabeth Brinkley, Mary Toms Newsom, Bill Albright, Doris Couch, Eloise Chappelle, and Loula Southgate.

The lights grow dim and a hush falls over the assemblage. Our mighty deeds are done and we look steadfastly to that day in June when recognition will be made of the noble deeds of every valiant Knight. Then the good Knights who have shown their prowess in noble deeds will fare forth into the wide world with shining armor and high hopes to find the Great Endeavor.

The First Morning

(Class Prophecy)

T WAS a fine, dewy morn in June when I set forth upon the King's errand. Ten years had I tarried at home, awaiting this, the day appointed by our noble Arthur, when I should ride out through the world seeking news of his subjects who left the Arthurian court in 1934. He, the King, had sent them out upon a search, a lifelong search for the Grail of their Heart's Desire, and had named me then as the chosen one to ride among them ten years hence and bring him news of their success or failure.

So as I cantered briskly along, breathing deeply of the scented morning air, I wondered who would be the first to cross my path. Little did I dream it would be Jimmie Cousins; but Jimmie it was who galloped full speed toward me, pulled his horse up short, and stopped me with a merry greeting.

"Well, well," I said. "How are things with you, Jamesie?"

"Sizzling," declared he. "You know, I'm business manager now for The New York Herald Tribune. And while we're on the subject, don't you think you should subscribe to our paper? Then you can sit back comfortably and read the news from all over the world. You won't have to hunt news; the news will find you. Dismount and sit down under this tree. Here's a pillow. There, lean back. That's right. Now. Here's a Herald. Isn't it beautiful? Now, read."

A bit dazed, I opened the paper. The first thing I saw was a big black streamer, "Larue Cribbs Elected Senator." I gasped, counted ten, looked back quickly. It was still there, so I concluded I wasn't dreaming.

Right in the middle of the front page was the picture of a woman who looked familiar. Then I saw the caption, "Noted editor of dress magazine returns from Paris," and, underneath, her name—Marion Dunn.

A tiny article down in the very corner of the page made me look at Jimmie and admit he was right about news from all over the world. This item, from Benghazi, Africa, stated that Victor Bowling's Dramatic Troupe of Benghazians were preparing to stage Eugene O'Neill's Strange Interlude.

But now came the worst shock of the entire morning. It was about Mary Toms Newsom, and the news was that her night club in the Bowery had been raided. Well, it wasn't the raid that bothered me; it was her having been a night club hostess! You see, she was always so sweet and serious when I knew her.

Bereft of one of my illusions, I turned the page, and—lost another. I had always considered Mary Frances Council and Bill Carr an ideal couple, one of those who live together in peace and placidity. But, alas, here I saw that they were getting a divorce.

But on the next page there was an article that brought me back to normal with a bump. It seemed that the noted radio star, Bill Blackley, had been off the air for a time and was now coming back to continue his bedtime stories for the Bunion Cure Hour.

Happy again, I perused "Oscar Apter's Information Bureau," and stored away for future reference an informative article by Mary Elizabeth Swain, consulting child psychologist.

As I turned to the sports section, my subconscious mind told me to expect to see Elmore Hackney's name. And there it was, in headlines: "Hackney wins eastern swim championship."

Frances Bond's latest book, "The Philosophy of Original Coiffures," and Annie Barnes Satterwhite's book of poems, "The Curly Headed Boy," were the features of a book review column edited by Thelma Zuckerman.

Seeing Annie Barnes's name reminded me of Tom Dixon, and I asked Jimmie what had become of him. Jimmie said he had made a fortune in Wall Street with the help of his super-efficient secretary, Lillian Copley.

As I turned back to the paper, I saw an advertisement for a beauty parlor operated by Mildred Hall and Violet Scott. Another featured a photo of Willie Lee Mize modelling a swagger suit for Robert Clement's "Elite Shop for Men." Chris Hibberd's "Sta-ever Hair Sticker" was glowingly described in a third.

On the last page it was reported that David "Gypsy" Smith was expected to return soon from a missionary expedition to Java.

Jimmie looked at me inquiringly as I finished reading and handed him the paper. Without a word I reached into my cloak, pulled out my wallet and emptied its contents into his lap. "This," I informed him, "is the first installment of a life subscription."

"Whoops," said Jimmie solemnly. Your first edition will arrive tomorrow. Well, here's wishing you luck in your explorations, and hope you'll find out all you want to know."

"Thanks," said I. "And if I am seeing straight, your wish is already granted, for here comes somebody that looks like Gertrude Webb."

"Webb? Oh, my. Well, good-by," said Jimmie, and by the time Gert rode up he was disappearing over the horizon.

After the first fizzle of "hello's and what-are-you-doing-now's" was over, Gertie and I settled down for a womanly gossip. I contributed what I'd just learned from the Herald Tribune, but the choice bits she offered out-choiced mine by far.

One of the first things she told me was that Rhoda Widgery had attained her ambition to be a lady, by marrying Lord B. A. M. Boozle the year before.

Then to finish up the Widgerys, she informed me that Claude W. had won a national essay contest on the subject, "What Makes Women Charming."

She then related a very romantic story about "Jerry" Matthews, who started out as a dress model and rose to be head of the dress department in Best and Company, New York City, and expounded at length on Elizabeth Brinkley's posing for complexion advertisements.

But when she told me that George Matthis had broken all records for selling automatic dream skimmers, I decided I'd had enough, and withdrew to an inn, where after several hours I felt myself enough recovered to write this report of my first morning out in the world.

MIRIAM WECKESSER, '34

King Arthur's Charge to His Knights

Strike hard, oh gallant knights and true,
Strike hard for truth, for right,
For all that good is through and through.
And in your armour bright
The seeds of learning also strew
And bring to darkness light.

Go thou and strive till Death appears
To find the Holy Grail;
Be brave, despite surrounding fears,
Despite the snow and hail;
The way is hard, the cost is tears
Too great for weak or frail.

The strong shall fall beside the way
Still more will search in vain;
And some will see an evil day
And enter things profane;
And few, too few, will say that they
The Holy Grail did gain.

The sound of human praise is sweet,
Is music in man's ears,
But heed it not, for it is fleet,
While Truth through all the years
Reward unto the truth doth meet
Far greater than the cheers.

No Heaven this, no Paradise,
And evil rules the throng.
Help thou the weak by good advice;
By deeds lead from the wrong
The helpless mob; to banish vice
Be thou forever strong.

Knights! this will be a better world
When through it thou hast passed;
When thou the battle flags hast furl'd
Hast tamed the wintry blast;
When earth has to a new day whirl'd
The finest and the last.

CLAUDE WIDGERY, '34.

The Knights' Toast

(Class Song)

In deep praise let us raise
A song full strong,
Let it ring let it swing
With feeling;
To each test of the best,
Each loss, each cost,
To the gay of each day
And dealing;
To the aim of each game
So straight, innate,
To a motive devotedly
Truthful;
To a past that is cast
So to last firm and fast—
The fresh life of the knight-errant
Youthful.

CHORUS:

Lift high your goblets brimmed with youth,
And spiced with pow'r and free of scum;
Then drink my friends, drink deep and long,

To past well done, success to come.
With good grace let us face
The future route,
Made secure by a sure
Foundation;
Let us aim at a name
To surpass the last,
Let our trend be in friendly
Relation;
Let each act be a fact
With fine design,
Let each thought be a sought
Elevation;
Let us fight for the right
With our might and foresight,
To make life a prolonged Graduation.

The Knights' Entertainment

On March 22, the Knights of '34 presented before King Arthur and his subjects a most amusing and entertaining three-act comedy, Little Miss Fortune.

The story gets off to a good start when the Cooper family, consisting of Mrs. Cooper, Elizabeth Brinkley, her daughter Katherine, Margaret White, and her son William, Arthur Knight, suddenly inherit a fortune from a deceased wealthy uncle. The shock was terrific to this poor family that had previously made ends meet by selling potato chips and molasses candy kisses. Just as the Coopers were adjusting themselves to their changed social position, misfortune stepped in and wiped out their wealth. To save the day the son of a rich banker arrived and claimed the daughter for his bride.

To add to these complications are introduced such characters as Augusta Smythe, the town snob, Loula Southgate; two society matrons with more money than manners, Mary Toms Newsom and Doris Couch; Lily Henshaw, a village gossip who commercialized her news, Mary Frances Mills; the dressmaker who saw all, heard all, and told all, Eloise Chappelle; the village merchant, Victor Bowling; and the local lawyer, Bill Albright.

Much of the credit for this most excellent performance is due the splendid coach, Mrs. W. H. Llewellyn, and her able assistants, Miss Lewter, Miss Michaels, and Mrs. Gilliatt.

The Old Order Changeth

(Last Will and Testament)

REALIZING that the time for our departure from these sacred halls of learning is rapidly approaching and that we shall soon look into many faces for the last time, and visualizing in our minds the important seats that will be left vacant by the sudden withdrawal of our most dignified miens, manners, and attributes from the Round Table of D. H. S.'s Court, we, the "Illustrious Knights," deem it expedient to leave said qualities—otherwise our belongings, properties, characteristics, and chattels—to our most worthy successors. Therefore, being possessed of our right minds, and undeniably qualified to dispose of our estate, we do herein set our hand and seal in this our last will and testament: Hence—

1. We will and bequeath to the class of '35 all our athletic, literary, and traditional honors, also our senior and social privileges, providing that said privileges are always within the bounds of conventionality.

2. Upon the notorious sophomore class, we bestow our superb senior dignity, refinement, and intellectual attainment, all these being conspicuous by their absence in said class.

3. Arthur Knight doth hereby bequeath his ability to melt test tubes to John Glasson, provided the latter promises to restock the supplies of our science department.

4. To Dorothy Cheek, Nancy Seeman leaves her "Walnut Chews" and her other every day necessities with the restriction that these be eaten between the hours of 8:30 A. M. and 3:10 P. M.

5. Kimbal Griffin and Burton Cheatam will the north hall and the space in front of a certain two lockers to James Thomas with the hope that James reaches every class on time.

6. To the faculty, we offer our complete forgiveness for all they have ever done to us, trusting that said forgiveness will exert influence toward a restful conscience and amelioration of mercy on those who follow after us.

7. The Knights of '34 hereby bestow on the rising classes the privileges of occupying their choice auditorium seats, on the condition that these Squires and Pages promise to listen attentively to every speaker.

8. Hill Paschal wills his latest dancing step to Pride Brown with the hope that it will enable the latter to quicken his pace.

9. To any illustrious Squire who can guarantee constant usage, Leatrice Barber bequeaths her most cherished wad of "Wrigley's."

10. Wilton Mann wills his boxing gloves to that midget Squire, Millard Upchurch, so that the latter may occupy his time in tossing gloves rather than tossing chalk and erasers.

11. Ted Tyren leaves his ability to fool Miss Herr to anyone in the Junior Class who proves himself to be as good a bluff as Ted.

12. To Cornelia Holloway, Margaret Bugg wills all her inside dope on "Why College Boys Make Better Beaux."

13. The fourth year Latin class leaves its entire stock in the pony express to the rising Virgil students. The same stock will be found in six feet of earth, three and one-half inches north, and eight and three-quarters inches west of the north-east corner of the tennis court.

14. Nell Cheek and Wallace Napier will their large statures to Langdon Hobgood, anticipating that some day he may acquire a favorable altitude.

15. To John A. Forlines, Jr., James Love leaves his right to forget his books eight mornings out of the week. To him also he leaves the helpful hint that hot lunches at home are very palatable.

16. Joe Reade Powell and Hugh White will their oratorical ability to Bernard Dworsky. White and Powell sincerely hope that the hot air they lose will not make any vital changes in the climate.

17. Owing to the fact that Loula Southgate no longer needs her vampish charms, she willingly bestows them upon Louise Smith.

18. His Kreisler-like violin ability, Arthur Lindsey leaves to Ray Brooks under the condition that he play Romeo Germino's blues away in case he should be stricken.

19. We, the class of '34, bequeath to the rising Seniors the privilege of publishing a Chaucer album under the able direction of Miss Herr.

20. We leave our research station, the library and its custodian, Miss Lewter, to those who are able to maintain a scholarly silence for forty-five minutes.

21. To Bill Franck, Robert Brame bequeaths his yellow sweater in the hope that Bill's hair fades to match the color.

22. Landon Corbin bestows upon the '35 basketball players his extensive vocabulary and his correct use of the "king's grammar."

23. Otis Capsalis bequeaths his inexhaustible supply of Adam's to Clarkson Worth to be surrendered to office objections or to come finally to rest on the under side of the cafeteria tables.

24. Archibald Stallings and "Butch" Barker will and bequeath their artistic and crooning ability to Edmund Swindell. (He surely needs it).

25. The ever-present smile, genial disposition, and scholarly habits of Annie Whitty Daniel are hereby bestowed upon that marvelous literary personage among the ranks of the Squires, Lottie Lewis.

26. To Mr. Benjamin Dixon Gaddy, Jr., Bill Albright leaves his proneness to exercise undue freedom of speech concerning the fair sex, provided the former promises not to do so on history class.

27. The '34 MESSENGER Staff bequeaths all worn-out pen staffs, crooked points, empty ink wells, left-over stationery, scrap paper, etc., to next year's editor. These we generously donate as a beginning.

Now as we look back over those years spent at Durham High, we realize that they have made up the happiest part of our lives and we are loath to leave her. However, since it is necessary and fitting, to avoid painful scenes, we take this opportunity of leaving to all a fond farewell.

We, the Senior Class of '34, do hereby revoke all documents and wills heretofore made, and appoint as joint executors of this most valuable and sacred document, Mrs. Belle Currin Gholson, and Mr. B. L. deBryne. We are thus content, and so in witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

SQUIRES

The Squires' Record

(Junior History)

'Mid blare of trumpets, the Castle Squires settled their armor, couched their lances, and thundered down the field of combat in pursuance of last year's records. The challenging "Have at thee!" was muffled by the clash and clangor of combat that rang out as lance smote shield, and sword reft helm. Many brave Squires were unhorsed, but numerous red and white pennants, emblazoned with scholarship, football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, and tennis symbols floated above the field of combat.

The victors wheeled their horses into line and rode into position before the royal box where sat President Ben Horack, Vice-President Fred Rippy, Secretary Mary Frances King, and Treasurer Pride Brown. President Horack rose from his seat and addressed the assembled multitude.

"Squires and Ladies of Camelot, the Crimson and White win the tourney. I award Squires Katz and Jones the football device for their pennants. Squires Swindell, Thomas, and Sloan are permitted a white basketball device upon a crimson pennant. Squire Julian may place a clenched glove upon his pennant and our Champions, Morris and Silver, have won the right of a wrestling device upon both shields and pennants. I order, also, that a red plume-pen be the device upon the pennants of Squires Caroline Breedlove, Mary Frances Buchanan, Lottie Lewis, Mary Lee Ramsey, Fred Rippy, Ray Brooks, Kathryn Felton, Pride Brown, Virginia Evans, and Mildred Patterson, all of whom have shown themselves to be well worthy of their golden scholarship spurs which they will don again next year."

The numerous Squires in the Hi-Rocket and Messenger press boxes wrote feverishly as Squire Horack concluded; "The contests are only a part of the activities in which our Squires have won their knightly spurs. They have attained excellent scholastic standing, as a whole; and those shields that are without design are none-the-less scarred and stained from battle."

PAGES

The Pages' Record

(Sophomore History)

The members of the Sophomore Class, though only pages, rapidly adapted themselves to the routine of the court life, and have, throughout the year, displayed surprising ability in many lines. Led by Eugenia Speed, President, Doris King, Vice-President, Christina Changaris, Secretary, and John Newsom, Treasurer, they have readily entered into each student endeavor and they have contributed their share to the success of the school year.

To the tournaments and jousts, held in the court several Pages were outstanding: Alex Worth, Foy Roberson, Jack Rose, Lewis Bishop. The girls, too, displayed ability and enthusiasm in athletics.

The work of the pages in the regular school has been especially outstanding. Mary Jean Bronson, Christina Changaris, Lorelle Fillers, Roberts Harder, Carolyn Henderson, Gertrude Isenhour, Marion Johnson, Helen Knight, Virginia Mason, J. C. Rutledge, Clarence Mangum, Lily Duke Clements, Irene Price, Ruth Ramsey, Dean Robertson, Eugenia Speed, Chesterleen Gibson, and Grace Plyler succeeded in making excellent scholastic records for themselves and in raising the standing of their class to a praise-worthy figure.

In keeping with this record, the Pages have used their ability to great advantage in the literary activities of the court. Representatives of this class are found on both the Hi-Rocket and Messenger staffs. Many outstanding members of literary societies and other organizations are Pages. Although they have been in the court for only a year, they are enjoying an enviable reputation. They hold great promise for the years ahead and seem destined to become ultimately superior knights of the Court of King Arthur.

FREE LANCERS

The Free Lancers of the Court

We are the knights of the Coöp order. We are they who travel from court into the mountainous country of necessity. Though the way is sometimes rough and progress seems a little slow, we travel steadily forward toward the goal.

In this order there are fifty Free Lancers, who are bound to each other in a spirit of brotherhood by a creed of helpfulness and coöperation. Girdled with the armor of unselfish service, we journey far, striving to subdue evil and uplift good. Each day we bend ourselves with more diligence in the search for the Grail, which represents truth and wisdom.

Our steeds are the "Wheels of Industry," and these enable us to keep on with renewed zeal in our search for truth. The helmets we wear are symbolic of duty—duty to classmates, duty to obligations, duty to our homes, duty to our communities. The shield of honor protects us on all our journeys.

Each year, returning to court and sitting about the Round Table, we discuss our journeys, our problems, and our plans. Our King always sits in conference with us, directing our plans, and points the way to greater service through realization of our opportunities.

This year, seventeen of the more valiant of this company receive the scroll with its gilded seal—a much coveted prize. This achievement gives them courage to travel into more distant fields and to use their many talents in a wider search for the Grail of Truth. These senior Knights leave behind them a challenge to the younger members of the order to strive to live up to their creed, so that wherever they go they will be known by their deeds.

ACTIVITIES

THE MESSENGER GIVES A REVIEW OF THE
SOCIAL LIFE AROUND
THE COURT.

The Social Life of the Court

IN King Arthur's Court the social functions were of vast importance; so, today, the extra-curricular activities are of inestimable value to the students. These activities cover a broad range and are thus able to prepare the courtier for various types of experiences, when, having achieved knighthood, he takes his place in the outer world.

The Messenger and the Hi-Rocket, student publications, have become great credits to the school. The Messenger, which is published annually by the members of the Senior Class, has, for three successive years, been chosen medalist in the contest held by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York City. This is the highest honor awarded in the contest. The Hi-Rocket, a bi-weekly newspaper, has been presented twice with the Hume Cup at the University of North Carolina, and has been awarded recognition at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Overseeing all the activities and undertakings of the student body is the Student Council.

The minstrels of the Court, include the Band, Orchestra, and Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. Through their outstanding performances these minstrels have added greatly to the enjoyment of innumerable occasions.

Those who are interested in debating participate in a state-wide contest for the Aycock Cup, through which surprising ability for public speaking has been discovered.

Through the Literary Societies, the pupils have studied debating, public speaking, and other cultural arts.

For the convenience of the student body as a whole, the Library Council was appointed to help students use the excellent library to the greatest advantage.

The French Club is composed of those French students who have made la bonne marque. These members receive invaluable experience in speaking French.

The Commercial, Phy-Chem, Readers', Current Events, Art, and Nature Study Clubs offer to the students particularly interested in any one of those fields an opportunity to further their knowledge.

Excellent dramatic entertainment is enjoyed throughout the year. The Dramatic Class and the Coroso Players are the organizations which do so much toward providing gaiety and entertainment. Each year the members of the Senior Class also produce a play which never fails to be met with well-earned enthusiasm.

Many of the Court's fair ladies have become Junior Members of the national Needlework Guild. They have proved themselves to be well-fitted to carry on the large share of the charitable works of Durham High.

So, the Knights, Squires, and Pages of King Arthur's Court take part in varied social events during the year.

The Hi-Rocket

Advising members of clergy: MISS MARGUERITE HERR, MR. HARVEY T. GIBSON,
AND MR. B. L. DEBRUYNE

A manuscript bearing the capital inscription, The Hi-Rocket, is issued from the court of King Arthur under the seal of His Majesty twice each time the moon waxes and wanes during the cycle of the sun from the first sign of the Libra to the sign of the Cancer.

This document, the official voice of the Court, is written, paid for, and distributed to the public by the coöperative action and the individual responsibility of the eighty members of the staff in the Order of the Fourth Estate. This group is chosen from the Knights, Squires, and Pages because of special aptitude for and interest in the work.

In every issue there is portrayed a cross section of the life and activity of the court residents, and those members on knightly quests through the world outside. The lay public is informed of the purposes and plans of organized activity, and the ideals which guide the conduct and build morale.

The leader, Mary Toms Newsom, in command of the staff of the Order, represents the Hi-Rocket at court. There are two divisions: The Board of Inscription, which compiles the issue from staff assignments or court contributions; and the Board of Subscriptions, that raises the revenues and provides means for publications. Directing the inscription are Miriam Weckesser, censor of news; Frances Bond, censor of editorial opinion; and Landon Corbin, architect of the scroll; directing the subscription is James Cousins, comptroller of currency, W. F. Carr, assistant, and Bill Blackley, chief of courier service.

The Order entered the first tournament of news manuscripts from several courts in North Carolina held by the University of North Carolina. The ultimate aim was to create in youth of promise a desire to lead in affairs of tomorrow through the medium of the quill and the scroll. The Hi-Rocket won first place.

In the next tournament, it won possession of the Thomas Hume Cup for a twelve-month. This handsome silver trophy given by the pupils of Dr. Hume to the memory of a master teacher of the King's English at the University was won last season under the leadership of Peter Moody and Tom Borland.

The Hi-Rocket was also entered at New York in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Tournament of news manuscripts from courts in the Union having 800 to 1500 daily attendants, and won second place in its new class. The Order was awarded a bronze quill by the C. S. P. C. A. for a decade of membership in that body which has raised the standard of achievement of every Fourth Estate in the Union and led the way.

Knights on the Boards leaving in June are: Elizabeth Brinkley, John Lentz, Thelma Zuckerman, Margaret Ormond, Dorothy Wilkerson, Gertrude Sawilowsky, Geraldine Matthews, Margaret Jones, Stuart Isaacs, Lucille Cole, Eleanor Ruben, Bill Albright, Grace Carrington, C. B. Jackson, Rhoda Widgery, Hugh White, Beatrice Abernathy, Marie Mickelson, Martha Hunnicutt, Eleanor Walters, Dan Shackleford, and David Smith.

The Round Table

Advising Member of Clergy: MR. HOLTON

The Round Table of the Court is composed of a representative group of courtiers, which includes the Student Body officers and the home room presidents. This year, with Romeo Germino as its leader and Mr. Holton as its adviser, it has become unusually active in student affairs.

Perhaps the most outstanding committee of the organization was the School-Games Committee, which was formed mainly to arouse more interest in the tournaments and jousts. A Scholarship Committee was also formed, the purpose of which was to decrease the percentage of failures in the school.

During the year, the Council undertook to manage the auditorium periods by a new system. Each home room took charge of a program, thus enabling a large number of students to gain experience in public speaking.

The Commercial Club

He can, who thinks he can.

Advising Members of Clergy: MISS ETHEL SOLLOWAY, MISS MARY HOLLAND, AND MRS. J. C. HOLLOWAY

The Commercial Club is composed of all those who are taking commercial subjects in the school. Its annual social affairs have always provided a great deal of pleasure in King Arthur's Court; its success in more serious projects is outstanding. This year has been no exception to the rule.

The Coroso Play, "Nothing But the Truth," is a highlight in the history of this year's Commercial Club. It was directed by Mr. Bailey Hobgood and managed by Miss Ethel Solloway and Miss Maude Rogers. The cast, headed by Ben Woodall and Virginia Edwards, and ably assisted by our Coöp partners and Misses Elinor Warren, Cecelia McClenny, Louise Houston, Florence Jaffe, and Martha Hunnicutt, presented a praiseworthy performance. One-third of the proceeds from this play was allotted to school improvements.

The Commercial Club Banquet, attended by one hundred and fifty club members, met with particular success. Several splendid speeches were heard during the evening, chief of which was that of Mr. Frank Pierson. The Commercial Club Social was especially enjoyable.

The club owes a large part of its success and achievement to its advisers and to its officers. The officers are as follows:

Vice-President	GEORGE YOUNG
Secretary	LOUISE WANNAMAKER

The Minstrelsy of the Court

*The man who has no music in himself,
Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds,
If fit for treason, stratagems, and spoils; . . .
Let no such man be trusted.*

THE citizens of Durham, aware of this fact, have put forth great efforts in order that their high school might maintain its music courses.

To Professor W. P. Twaddell, who for twelve years has been in charge of the young talent, goes the credit for making Durham students music conscious and appreciative. Under his able direction the choral groups as well as the soloists have reached that point which a few years ago was thought impossible.

This former extra-curricular subject is now accepted in our school as a course, and a unit is given for two years study.

The Glee Club this year contains one hundred twenty enthusiastic and capable "minstrels." These splendid singers furnish music for programs and concerts both in Durham and in nearby cities. Over sixty of these students have become members of the senior choirs of prominent city churches.

The choruses, too, have grown steadily larger, and, through constant endeavor, have become more and more a dominant factor in the state contests since 1928. Last year, Greensboro tied Durham for highest honors.

Three of our most outstanding musical graduates are Lucielle Brown, '32, Euticus Renn, '33, and M. T. Cousins, '33. Miss Brown, now known as Miss Lucielle Browning, was awarded a fellowship to the Julliard Institute in New York where she is now a favorite protégé of Madame Sembrich. Euticus is now bass soloist of the Westminster Choir of the celebrated Choir School of Princeton, New Jersey. He is the only member of the Freshman Class in this famous choir. M. T. Cousins, who has a very good voice also, has made his way with his trumpet. He is a member of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra.

As definite proof of their musical ability, the present music class produced such talented artists as Grace Carrington, Billy Bagwell, Arthur Lindsey, Katherine Mangum, and Irvin Peed. The individuals, however, were not the only ones to distinguish themselves; the choral groups have also achieved great honors. The Girls' Chorus, Boys' Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Male Quartet, Mixed Quartet, and Girls' Trio, likewise won statewide recognition.

In view of all these worthy accomplishments, the students and the faculty justly recognize Professor W. P. Twaddell as "the power behind the throne." We thank the people of Durham for making his work financially possible.

The 1934 Debating Season

Advising Member of Clergy: MRS. GHOLSON

Query: "Resolved, that the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio control and operation."

From the large number of students who entered the preliminary debates in the Court, the following teams were selected to represent Durham High School in the triangular contest:

Affirmative	Negative
FRED RIPPY	LANDON CORBIN
FRANCES BOND	GEORGE YOUNG

Bernard Dworsky and George Culbreth were chosen alternates.

Six weeks were spent in deep study, arduous tasks, and concentrated efforts in preparing for the debate. The teams secured aid from broadcasting companies and local and national libraries. Having imbibed freely from various sources of information on the subject, the debaters, under the supervision of the coach, Mrs. Gholson, prepared their speeches. The week prior to the debate was spent in the practice of delivering these. On March 29, Durham's affirmative team met the Fayetteville negative in Raleigh, and lost a hard debate by a two to one decision. On the same day, Durham's negative met the Raleigh affirmative in Fayetteville, and won by a similar decision. As a result, Durham was thus debarred from sending her teams to Chapel Hill, a privilege granted only to winners of both sides of the question. Thus ended a most successful debating season.

Blackwell Literary Society

Dicimus facere faciundo.

Advising Member of Clergy: MR. PHILLIPS

The Blackwell Literary Society has the distinction of being the oldest organization of its kind in Durham High School. Since its beginning in 1905, it has developed rapidly in both size and importance, and now retains a prominent position among student activities. This year, when Mr. Holton's duties as principal made it impossible for him to continue as director of the society, Mr. Phillips was chosen to take his place. Under their new adviser, the members have carried out their regular course of work most successfully.

This society places particular emphasis on debating. In past years many of its members have represented Durham High in debates. This year several Blackwell boys tried out for the debating team, and while only one, George Young, was successful, several others exhibited exceptional speaking ability.

All things beautiful are as excellent as they are rare.

Advising Member of Clergy: MISS LELIA HAMPTON

The Cornelia Spencer Literary Society is the oldest and one of the most important girls' organizations of its kind in the Court. Its purposes are to give its members an opportunity to develop their talents in literary fields, to encourage public speaking, and to furnish recreation and entertainment.

Almost annually some member of this society distinguishes herself in public speaking. Last year Bess McGlothlin won the medal given in the Woman's Club Recitation Contest. The medal, which is presented at the close of each year to the member who has done the most outstanding work, was also won by Bess McGlothlin.

Leaders in nearly every field of student activity are to be found among the members of this organization.

Advising Members of Clergy: MISS HERR AND MR. FREEMAN

"Let knowledge grow; let life be enriched?"

Seven winters ago the Walter Hines Page Literary Society was organized in King Arthur's Court to further the process of self-development among its members. It was named for that distinguished statesman of international fame who was a lifetime crusader for public education.

Great excitement was manifested in all the programs which served to stimulate interest in public affairs, court projects, and parliamentary procedure, and to strengthen friendship among this group of courtiers. The society work closed with the annual banquet.

Its members have been very active in all affairs at court. Fred Rippy and Landon Corbin were on the Aycock debating team; and Billy Bagwell, Dick Howerton, Ben Thaxton, Edmund Swindell, and Ray Brooks have done outstanding work in music.

A silver loving cup, a gift of former Knights, has inscribed on it annually the most outstanding Knight in the society. The honor this year was given to Landon Corbin.

Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society

Advising Member of Clergy: MISS LOUISE T. WATKINS

Since its beginning on October 21, 1926, the enrollment of the Lila Markham Brogden Literary Society has increased rapidly. At the time of its organization, the society was named for Mrs. Lila Markham Brogden, a former faculty member, who, because of the services which she had rendered to Durham High School as well as to the city of Durham, had won great respect among the ladies of the court.

The regular meetings have included business sessions and programs. These programs were made up for the most part of short plays and talks on various subjects. In addition to being enjoyable, they were of great benefit in training the members of the society in public speaking, in debating, and in reciting.

The James H. Southgate Literary Society was organized on October 6, 1926 with Miss Belle Hampton as its adviser. Since that time the society has grown rapidly and has proved itself worthy of its well-known founder, Mr. Southgate, who did much for the city of Durham.

Many educational and entertaining programs are enjoyed during the year. Each member is given the opportunity to participate in public speaking. This organization also offers an excellent opportunity to make new friends.

Points are given for good work; and, at the end of the year, a gold star is awarded to the member who has received the highest number of points. Last year this award was won by Grace Carrington.

Carmichael Literary Society

Advising Member of Clergy: MR. J. L. WOODWARD

The members of the Carmichael Literary Society have succeeded in combining a keen interest in athletics with a spirit of literary activity. A great many of these boys possess unusual athletic ability, and have, through their own enthusiasm, aroused the interest of the entire society in the various tournaments and jousts which are held throughout the year. A great many, too, have played a prominent part in literary activities, and have become influential in the social life of the Court.

This organization grew out of the Carr-Carmichael Literary Society, which became so large several years ago that it was necessarily divided into two separately active groups. Since that time, it has, under the able direction of Mr. J. L. Woodward, prospered greatly in its many undertakings.

Athena Literary Society

Hodie, non cras.

Advising Member of Clergy: MRS. EGERTON

Usually gay times were enjoyed in King Arthur's Court at the bi-weekly gatherings of the Athena Literary Society which has passed another prosperous year. According to a custom of several years, the group was divided into three sections, each of which vied with the others in presenting programs. In this way, the varied abilities of the members were developed, and a spirit of competition was aroused which added greatly to the interest and enjoyment of the programs. Debating and the study of good literature were chiefly stressed.

The society furnished the only girl member of the Aycock Debating Team, Frances Bond, as well as several participants in the Woman's Club Recitation Contest.

Advising Member of Clergy: MR. H. L. FOSTER

This group of courtiers has won an enviable position in the social life of the court. The Knights, Squires, and Pages, who constitute its enrollment, display a keen interest in every school project and support every enterprise with hearty enthusiasm.

The aims of the Carr Literary Society are to develop in its members the ability to be good speakers, good business men, and better citizens through the presentation of programs. These qualities are continually developed, along with them a slight degree of parliamentary law. Under the able direction of our adviser, Mr. Foster, the society has accomplished much during the school year, and its members have stood out in all school activities. It is the aim of the society to bring the idea of sportsmanship into all student activities. The officers for the year are as follows:

O. Henry Literary Society

We go to seek on many roads.

Advising Member of Clergy: MRS. SWINDELL

Perhaps one of the most active social groups around the Court is the O. Henry Literary Society. Through this worthwhile organization many of King Arthur's subjects have further developed their talents along various literary and artistic lines.

In their bi-weekly meetings held during the regular school day, each member has participated in the varied programs designed to encourage the reading of good literature, to develop the art of public speaking, to give training in the rules of parliamentary order, and to form genuine, sincere, and lasting friendships among the girls.

As a result of this training our members are found actively engaged in every activity around the court. Many members of the group have won recognition in journalism and dramatics. On the publication staffs are to be found some of the most active members of the society. These are: Elizabeth Brinkley, Geraldine Matthews, Miriam Weckesser, Doris King, Martha Rogers, and Margaret Waite.

When the cast for the Senior Play was selected, again our society did her part by furnishing one of the major characters, Elizabeth Brinkley. No one who saw the performance can ever forget the inimitable manner in which she portrayed the part of Mrs. Cooper.

Through their training in the dramatics class, Ruth Eudy and Doris King have added much talent and vitality to the organization.

In music we have furnished Mr. Twaddell with Inez Leathers and Ruth McLean. Alice Rowe has been an active worker on the library council for several years.

However, extra-curricular activities do not supplant academic work, they only supplement it. Elizabeth Brinkley, Virginia Evans, Doris King, Geraldine Matthews, Martha Rogers, and Miriam Weckesser uphold the scholastic standard of the group by regularly making first and second honor rolls.

An innovation this year is a visiting committee composed of Marguerite McClenny and Doris King. Through these girls the entire society has benefited, for by their visits to other societies in the school many valuable suggestions have evolved into practical gain.

Mrs. Swindell this year, in order to encourage good work, offered a medal to the senior who has done the most outstanding work in the society for three consecutive years. Miriam Weckesser was the first winner of this award. She has been an active member since 1930.

The Junior Needlework Guild

Advising Member of Clergy: MISS MARGUERITE M. HERR

To help the needy in the Kingdom of Durham, the Needlework Guild was founded by Mistress John Sprunt Hill. She summoned the knights in King Arthur's Court to join her order and Miss Herr to organize those interested into a Junior Needlework Guild.

Heading the current season's activities were Mary Toms Newsom, chief mistress, and Nancy Seeman, recorder. Seventeen directors, each having ten members to assist, were in charge. The Guild assumed the quota of garments asked for by The Wright Refuge, and these were exhibited at the annual ingathering.

With customary court spirit the Guild has grown from 80 to 300 members and the donations made, from 125 to 600 garments.

The chief mistress represented the Guild at the business meeting and the circle directors were guests at a reception at Hope Valley given by Mistress Hill to all Guild members.

Readers Club

Advising Member of Clergy: MR. H. T. GIBSON

Due to the keen interest of its members and its faculty supervisor, the Readers' Club has during this, its first year, become actively influential in the cultural life of the school.

Its purpose is to create an interest in good literature through the study of the classics and of their authors. In carrying out this purpose, the group has presented programs on various outstanding literary figures. Round table discussions have been held, outside reading has been done, and biographical sketches have been given.

Some of the members have corresponded with living authors, from whom the club has received many helpful suggestions concerning these studies. A collection of these letters is being made. From year to year this collection will grow and remain as a worthy memorial to the Readers' Club.

Advising Member of Clergy: MRS. BELLE C. GHOLSON

Citizenship and character building are the themes around which the educational policies of Durham High have rotated and developed within the school year 1933-1934. In the Current Events Club these traits have been promoted through that growth and development in social efficiency, toward which this organization strives.

The principles endorsed by knights of old are not forgotten. Unselfish attitudes, wholesome habits, worthy appreciations, high ideals, and practical standards have places in our club activities.

Our aims are to gain an interpretation of the printed page, to have an intelligent understanding of the happenings of today, and to develop a sense of tolerance through the realization of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man. Truly, "The proper study of mankind is man," and the doings of men everywhere concern the knightly members of our civic organization—the Current Events Club.

The Art Club was organized two years ago with Mrs. Clement Strudwick as its adviser. This year the work, which was then so expertly begun, is being carried onward under the capable leadership of Mrs. J. B. Mason. Having heard the distressed call of art-struck Knights, Squires, and Pages for the continuation of the club, Mrs. Mason immediately came to their aid. At the request of its enthusiastic members, the organization has undertaken various projects, all of which have afforded a great deal of enjoyment and much valuable experience.

Twenty-two art students are enrolled in the club, each of whom is interested in further developing his talent in art. Through their splendid coöperation and their efficiency they have assured the success of the organization.

The members of the Dramatic Class are constantly working to brighten dull moments in the court life. Not only through the presentation of their own plays but also through the ground work which they do for the more important dramatic productions, they have done a great deal toward providing excellent dramatic entertainment for the courtiers.

During the year they have become proficient in the arts of make-up, pantomime, and stage-craft. Each member has also gained invaluable experience through writing and directing a one-act play, as well as taking part in similar playlets.

In the spring, the class attended a tournament in Chapel Hill where they competed in various fields with representatives from other schools in the state.

TOURNAMENTS

KING ARTHUR DECLARES
A HOLIDAY THAT ALL
HIS KNIGHTS, SQUIRES, AND PAGES MAY TAKE PART IN THE TOURNA-MENTS AND JOUSTS.

The Tournaments

ALL work ceased as the shrill note of the trumpet announced the opening of the tournaments. Our Knights and those of the many neighboring kingdoms were arrayed against one another for the well-liked jousts. The contestants who qualified for the combats did so not only by their exhibition of skill but also by establishing themselves as capable and industrious students.

As sports are commonly considered a physical asset only, it is extremely interesting to learn the other advantages gained through organized play.

Sports are teachers. They are strict teachers. They are teachers one cannot bluff, flatter, or cajole. They restrain the over-zealous, stimulate the timid, and make the boastful ridiculous.

Sports are comrades. They always advocate courage, self-reliance, and unselfishness. It has been said that "in order to have a friend, one must be a friend"—so with sports. Be a friend and one has a friend.

Sports are evangelists. They call us to clean living and clean thinking. They tell us that in order to be good citizens we must give all we have to the game.

Sports are knights. They extol the practice of virtue and condemn vice. They exalt good manners and manly bearing. On the field of combat the good athlete can say with Galahad:

"My strength is as the strength of ten
Because my heart is pure."

QUINTON HOLTON
General Athletic Adviser

Soon after the tournament had been formally launched, it was evident that many championships were to fall before the onslaught of our well-trained warriors. The beautiful football trophy which is awarded to the football champions of the year, was the first coveted prize to become a possession of D. H. S. The next important title that was taken into the fold was the Eastern Basketball Championship. The wrestling team, which was awarded third place in the state, and the boxing team made very impressive records. Many a lofty mark fell before the dashing harriers of Arthur's realm. In the state tournament we took five first places and furnished four champions. With these State Champions, Hackney, Worth, Umstead and Southerland setting the pace, Durham breezed through the Duke Invitational Tournament handily winning the meet. They then began work on the famed Civitan Meet held in Greensboro. Again the Crimson cinder men ran their opponents submissive. Tennis, baseball, and golf jousts furnished wonderful thrills before the tournaments closed for the season.

outfit, Durham could do no better than take a 0-0 tie, the only time during the whole season in which they failed to cross that last white line. Wilmington was the next team to suffer defeat at the hands of the championship-bound Bulldogs. Durham was now in position to meet Raleigh for the Eastern Championship. Playing a fast and clean brand of ball, the Durham team walked off the field with the Eastern Championship safely tucked away.

Wrestling

THIS year, wrestling has taken a far more eminent position among the court tournaments than ever before. Approximately eighteen courtiers, all eager to exhibit and further develop their skill on the mat, reported at the beginning of the season. Around a nucleus of veteran wrestlers, Captain Griffin, Silver, Morris, and Germino, Coach Stewart set about building and strengthening the team. Hard and consistent practice was carried on faithfully throughout the entire season.

Having participated in no dual meets this season, the Durham team was at a slight disadvantage in the state meet which was held at Chapel Hill. However, through hard fighting, they succeeded in winning second place in the State, losing by only three points to the strong Barium Springs outfit. Silver, Morris, Griffin, Lucas, and Germino were sent to the finals. After hard-fought matches and close decisions in all divisions, Silver, Morris, and Germino emerged State Champions in their respective weights.

The team succeeded in establishing an excellent record and won still more athletic honors for themselves and for Durham High. Next year's team will be handicapped by the loss of Griffin and Germino, but, from the wealth of wrestling material which will return next year, a spectacular outfit will be formed to uphold the standard set by the wrestlers of 1934.

Basketball

WITH several lettermen back, Durham High expected a strong basketball team—nor were we disappointed! Knights King, Hackney, and Pope, and Squires Swindell and Thomas, composed the 1934 team which lost only four games, two of them going to the powerful Charlotte team which copped the South Atlantic tournament.

The season opened with tilts against Chapel Hill and Oxford in which the Bulldogs were victorious by overwhelming scores. On a northern trip, the team beat Maury High of Norfolk 28-2, but lost to Newport News by a 15-13 score. Then Durham consecutively defeated Wilmington, Fayetteville, Raleigh, Rocky Mount, Danville, and Greensboro. We repeated five of these victories later, but were upset by the strong Raleigh aggregation to the tune of 17-14. This unexpected defeat left Durham and Raleigh tied for first honors in the Eastern Conference, and a play-off was necessary. A large crowd looked on as the Bulldogs took Raleigh in the Tin Can at Chapel Hill 20-9. Two days later came the game with Charlotte. This seemingly invincible team inflicted a 24-13 defeat upon our basketeers who had not fully recovered from the hard tilt with Raleigh.

Although Durham High had lost the State Championship, we were invited to the Washington and Lee Annual Tournament which featured only the top-ranking High Schools and Preparatory Schools in the South Atlantic States. The Bulldogs were slated to meet Masanutton, a seeded team, in the first round and defeat was expected. The Durhamites, however, rose to the occasion and defeated them 20-13. Two other seeded and powerful teams, Staunton, and Greenbrier, fell before the onslaught of the Bull City youngsters; and Durham and Charlotte again met, this time for the South Atlantic title. Wearied from the Greenbrier game, played only a few hours before, Durham fell 28-20. Thus the Bulldogs ended another successful season by covering themselves with glory.

Captain Pope, Hackney, and King, an all-South Atlantic guard, have played their last games under the Crimson and White for D. H. S., but their places will be filled by efficient Squires and Pages who hope to send the dome of Durham High soaring higher by their efforts.

Boxing

LED by Student-Coach Wilton Mann, the Durham High mittmen inaugurated their second scheduled boxing season. The promising but green group of aspirants settled down to the task of rounding out an impressive team of leather throwers.

After surviving a successful season of dual meets, Durham entered two men in the State Tournament at Chapel Hill. Captain Wilton Mann and Hoyle Pope were victorious in their first Tournament match. Pope, however, was eliminated in the quarter-finals by a close decision. Mann, the only D. H. S. representative left in the tournament, carried the school colors through in great style to the finals, where he won the State Championship in the 145 lb. class.

Wilton Mann, captain-coach, undoubtedly offered the most outstanding performance, winning all seven bouts, four by knock-outs. He was ably assisted by Don Jordon, Millard Upchurch, Bernard Julian, Alex Worth, Hoyle Pope, Edwin Johnson, Willie Mize, and George Matthis.

The young boxers of this new sport fought hard and offered good exhibitions. Their example is expected to increase the interest in this game and make many more boys answer the coach's call for next season.

Baseball

ABOUT thirty-five diamond enthusiasts reported to Coach Bruke for positions on the baseball team. Among these were only five lettermen: Vance Sykes, pitcher; Nat Hunter, second baseman; Elwood Pipkins, third baseman; Norman Pope and Joffre Ray, outfielders. With these five men as a nucleus, a mighty team was moulded into shape.

Aspiring to surpass the record of last year's Eastern Champions, the Bulldogs bunched their hits well in the first game of the season to win by a safe margin. Under the capable leadership of Nat Hunter, diminutive second baseman, the pill-tossers rounded out a very successful season.

Track

WITH the crack of the starter's gun the crimson and white of the Durham track jousts flashed down the cinder path. Straining every muscle to the utmost, the harriers of D. H. S. breasted the tape, and so brought into Arthur's court another championship trophy. The followers of track were thoroughly and justly pleased with this first really successful track season.

Captain Hackney, proved himself quite a star in leading his team through a successful season. The entire team made a fine showing in the meets, the performers being: Southerland, Matthis, and Donald, quarter-milers; Umstead, Wilson, and Carr, hurdlers; Worth and Rippy, half-milers; Brown and Bradsher, milers; Captain Hackney, Southerland, and Wilson, dashmen; Southerland and Hackney, broad-jumpers; Browning and Woody, weight-men; and Brame, high-jumper.

When Fall was giving way before the icy blasts of winter, the season of basketball loomed upon the horizon. Two series of jousts were held. One between the color teams, which were composed of those from the same home room, and the other between the class teams. The class teams were chosen from those who had excelled while in the lists for the color teams.

In the first joust between the class teams the Squires under the leadership of Frances Briggs defeated the Pages by a 26-11 score. The Pages then suffered a second defeat at the hands of the Knights by a score of 10-30. The final and decisive joust was between the Knights and the Squires. This hard fought game, the most exciting of the season, was won by the Squires, the score at the close being 19-14. Four Knights and six Squires were chosen for their outstanding performance to be on a varsity team. With Frances Briggs as Captain, they are as follows: Grace Carrington, Virginia Hoffer, Foye Stephens, Caroline Breedlove, Mary E. Gulley, Jane Hooper, Ruth Durham, Lottie Ripley, and Rhoda Widgery.

The last tournament to be presented in the arena was a spectacular track meet. Although the courtiers were comparatively inexperienced in this sport, each participant displayed such an unusual amount of skill that this list was declared one of the most enjoyable ones held at the Court.

Rambling about the cafeteria we gather the data for a generous if not invigorous discussion of eggs. Now quit egging us on, hen give us time to get the material ready like we rooster. There are big eggs and little eggs, hen eggs and duck eggs—oh my yes, by all means be sure you do duck eggs because if you dont your pan may contain scrambled eggs. All of which is very funny. Don't think you can stop us though, we're still going strong (you see we don't have time to read the ads.) Boy did we fool you, you thought we were going on talking about eggs, or maybe you fooled us, nevertheless we're not so particular. Some yolk, egg boss? Loula Southgate of this powerful Senior class, tells us that J. N. G. stands for "Jane's Needlework Guild" whose slogan is, "Why dontcha come up and seam us sometimes." It seems like life is just that way . . . sew what?

We quote from a broadcast that isn't coming in any too clearly at present. "This broadcast is coming to you through the courtesy of the Woolen Blanket Company, whose slogan is, "Reach for a Blanket, Instead of a Sheet." All right don't get sore, we'll admit it, we combed the moss off that one. In case you're interested, and students how could you—no matter what you said—the station is located in a deserted sausage mine under an old egg orchard (there we go, and there we stop) in ancient Peru. Peru still there everybody. O. K. we freely admit it, it was a bum joke, but after all gentle listeners (if any) we've got to fill up space and you students (also if any) have got to pull together." John Armstrong also reminds us that, "A bird in the hand—is bad manners." When a certain young lady (if you must know it was Gertrude Webb, there now!) was asked why she had red hair, she replied that when the beauty specialist asked her what color she wanted her hair dyed, she replied, "Oh henna color will do!" Oh by the way, all of you readers who have gotten down this far—oh, oh, I was afraid of that—here I am talking to myself again, but I guess it's just as well, I'm the only person that will listen to me anyway.

As I was saying dear readers (if Mary Frances Council is still brave enough to stick by us—dear, dear, dear readers) or maybe I should say reader 'cause the plural sounds too conceited. To get on with the blah. . . . There was a little girl called little Nell (Check and double Check), (this was going to be a traveling salesman joke but by this time we have so few readers that we figure we would be wasting a perfectly good joke) who said that she knew a certain girl who had a boy friend who had a million dollars and was so homely that they weren't even engaged. angle that he has come to the conclusion that tennis equal to six plus four . . . most authorities state however that tennis equal to five plus five. This of course puts it on a fifty-fifty basis.

Speaking of basis, Vance Sykes tells us that with the basis loaded he struck out. It was later learned that he also struck out for home. This made it a double strike-out, thus saving the day. He said he would continue to play baseball this week if the rainchecks up any.

Carr Stallings has been drawing so much of late that he doesn't have any lead left in his trusty pencil . . . tsk! tsk! tsk! did I say drawing? He does lovely scratch drawings, and in case you don't know they are those swell itchings.

Hugh White started an after dinner speech three days ago and is still going strong, to say nothing of his audience, if any. He said in brief that his impression of "Bucking the Wind" was talking to George Young.

Shorty Knight, my special correspondent, sends me news of Cowboy Hill. This is the town that is so tough that the honey eats the bees, whiskers shave the razors, flies kick the horses, and the villagers live on sandwiches and goat's milk. The sandwiches are made of two slices of meat with a thin slab of bread in the middle and the milk curdles up and goes to sleep—boy what a climate for chess! We almost forgot to mention that the canaries all sing bass and the fish swim backwards to keep the water out of their eyes.

Latest Baseball flashes . . . Sally Rand fanned two in the fourth, walked Pipkins on balls (boy did this make him sore? . . . it boined him up!) and let Clouts McGinnis get a hit good for a two-bagger. Then Sally got a bagger, oh my yes, a bagger popcorn.

Racing dope on a leased wire, (wire they leasing it? . . . don't ask!) lease we forget . . . "Far Behind" came in first, followed by "Not-a-Chance." "Good Luck" came in last, while "Stakes Winner" was left at the post. "Itchy Boy" was scratched.

Track news . . . The big money was on Harry Chess, but oddly enough, he oddly crossed the finishing line before he did a fadeout and they removed the remains. What's left of him? Remains to be seen.

We toldja so!
